KNOWLEDGE IS POWER

Braille is a great deal more than a six dot writing and reading system, gifted to the world by its architect Louis Braille nearly two centuries ago;
Braille is literacy that has brought independence and empowerment to the blind of the world through knowledge.

- Dr. E.J. Herie, 1994

Dedication

The World Braille Foundation, together with our partners, is honored to have sponsored and encouraged this Filipino Braille Transcription Manual. Resources for the Blind, Inc. and their partners merit our congratulations and thanks for their perseverance, hard work, and commitment to ensuring the highest standards of Filipino Braille transcription.

This manual opens new opportunities in expanding the World of Braille into new horizons that will empower untold generations as they discover Braille Literacy with ownership of their very own Braille code. A truly visionary effort!

Publication of this manual is both historic and a major tribute as we plan to celebrate the Bicentennial of the birth of Louis Braille in 2009. How better to honor the memory and contribution of a man who truly is the architect and original author of this medium. A high water mark to a wonderful moment in the global history of Literacy for the Blind of the World!

Foreword

The original Filipino Braille code was written in early 1960's by Mrs. Gloria C. Mendoza who worked as supervisor in the Philippine Printing House for the Blind from 1963 to 1983.

The Filipino Braille code underwent its first revision in September 1991 aiming to solve problems and issues encountered in Braille instructions, as well as the changes made in the Filipino alphabet. For twelve years, this revision was continuously used in the educational system. Then in June 2004, to eliminate the confusion encountered by Braille readers, to conform to computer commands and to bring about quality education to blind learners, the Philippine Printing House for the Blind made a second revision on the code.

In December 2003, Resources for the Blind, Inc., in coordination with the Department of Education, initiated the preparation of Instruction Manual for Filipino Braille Transcribing patterned after the Instruction Manual for Braille Transcribing prepared by the Library of Congress, USA.

The basic information of the Revised Filipino Code remains the same but explanations have been expanded and more simulated Braille examples have been added. Reading and writing exercises are included for mastery of the code. Lessons presented are hierarchically arranged to facilitate learning.

Funding for this project was provided by the World Braille Foundation, under the leadership of Dr. Euclid Herie, in partnership with the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, the National Federation of the Blind and the American Foundation for the Blind.

General Course Instructions

Purpose and Scope

This manual is prepared for use by the students of Filipino Braille transcribing course conducted by PNU-RBI and by the instructors of Filipino Braille classes. It is intended to familiarize them with the Braille system, the contractions and their usage, and the rules of transcribing.

Sentences and phrases in the drills and exercises in this manual do not contain words that require the use of contractions not yet studied. This practice helps prevent the student from acquiring the habit of brailleing words incorrectly.

The examples in this manual are presented in simulated Braille (dots reproduced in print). The student is asked to study how the rules work in practice. Special situations where a rule is inapplicable are also presented.

Appendixes at the end of this manual contain materials useful as references throughout the course.

Appendix A - Gives the correct print for the simulated Braille reading exercises from Lessons 1 to 10.

Appendix B - Gives the correct simulated Braille for Drills.

Appendix C - Gives the summary of all the contractions.

All persons using this manual are invited to submit comments, criticisms or suggestions to Resources for the Blind. These will be studied carefully and will be given serious consideration in the preparation of any revision.

How to enroll

Contact Resources for the Blind or Philippine Normal University to obtain information about the Filipino Braille Transcriber's Course.

Equipment

A student may use a braillewriter, a 40-cell Braille slate and stylus, or a computer using direct-input Braille program. Direct-input programs require the user to Braille using only six keys, much in the same manner as when using a braillewriter. Translation programs, where the user types in the material on a standard keyboard and is then translated into Braille, are not allowed for use in this course. Exercises must be submitted in hard copy (embossed) Braille or in Simulated Braille

Use and Preparation of Drills, Reading Practices, and Exercises

Drills and reading practice. Materials in this manual are divided into eighteen lessons. Lessons 1-15 each contain one or more drills, and the first ten lessons each have a reading practice. These are prepared to give the student practice in applying the rules covered in the preceding section. The reading exercises should be written out in longhand before comparing them to the printed versions found in Appendix A. For further practice, the print version of the reading exercise can be brailled and then compared with the simulated braille in the lesson.

Exercises. An exercise at the end of each lesson is prepared to test the student's ability to deal with problems presented in that lesson. This also serves as a review of previous lessons. Exercises are submitted to the instructor for examination and correction.

Braille page margins and line length. The hard copy materials should be transcribed on pages measuring 11 ½ inches wide and 11 inches long while a standard sized bond paper is used in simulated braille. The right-hand, top, and bottom margins should measure at least one-half inch. These measurements allow for a page of twenty-five lines with 40 cells per line.

All references to cell numbers (e.g. Start in cell 1...) refer to the margin in effect. Therefore, when using a 40-cell line, cell 1 will be the 2nd cell on the machine. A good way to set the margins in the braille machine is to insert a piece of paper into the machine, then push the margin release tabs open as far as possible (this is located at the rear of the machine). By pushing all six keys at the same time, the user can braille a line of full cells. There should be 42 cells. This practice allows the cells to be seen or felt and the margin tabs to be set in the appropriate places.

Centering a heading. The first line of every page of an exercise, except the exercise in Lesson 1, should carry a fully capitalized centered heading, called a "running head." Count first the number of cells that the heading will occupy then subtract that number from 40 (the number of cells on a line). Divide your answer in half and that will tell you how many blank cells should precede and follow the heading. When a heading occupies an uneven number of cells so that it cannot be perfectly centered, move the heading off center by one cell to the left. When counting the number of cells needed for a centered heading, remember to include in your count contractions, spaces, punctuation signs, and composition signs. Also remember that contractions take fewer cells than the letters they represent.

A blank line should follow the centered heading only on the first page of each exercise. All other pages should have the running head on the first line and the exercise continuing on the second line.

Erasures. Erasures should be made with the greatest care. Place the paper on a smooth, hard surface such as a piece of glass or a mirror then place the tip of the eraser on the dot to be erased and gently but firmly press straight down. Move the eraser in a circular motion until the dot has been completely leveled. Do not scrub the paper. Be sure that no adjacent dots have been lowered and, if so, reinforce them with the point of the stylus or with the braillewriter.

Proofreading. Proofread each sentence on the computer screen or while the paper is still in the brailier. It should be proofread again when it is complete. Pages with errors should be redone so that the exercise is neatly presented to the instructor.

Grading

After the instructor has examined each exercise, the student will receive a detailed report pointing out errors and making helpful comments and suggestions. Grading is up to the instructor's discretion. Depending upon the number and type of errors made, the student will be asked to resubmit sentences in which errors occurred, or the entire exercise may have to be repeated. When the instructor is satisfied that the student has mastered the material, a new assignment will be made.

Certification

After finishing the lessons in this manual, certification as a braille transcriber is achieved by submission of a thirty-five braille-page manuscript to the Resources for the Blind, Inc. Details for preparing the manuscript, and information about the grading process, are located in Lesson 18.

Mailing or E-mailing of Materials

Mailing exercise to RBI. All brailled exercises should be mailed to: Resources for the Blind, Inc., Box 1831, CPO 1099, Manila. The braille page should never be folded or rolled. Enclose them in a padded envelope or in a large envelope with firm cardboard sheets the size of braille paper on the top and bottom to protect the braille.

Emailing to RBI. You can email your exercises and the trial manuscript to lorrie@blind.org.ph

Lesson 1

The Braille Alphabet

1.1 In General

Braille is a system for tactile reading and writing. It uses characters formed by combinations of six embossed dots that are arranged within the braille cell in two vertical columns of three dots each. A simple braille character is formed by one or more of these dots, and it occupies a full cell or space.

For convenience, the dots of the braille cell are referred to by number and correspond to the keys on a braillewriter.

Braille Cell	Braillewriter
1 • • 4
2 • • 5	U U U [[[]]] U U U
3 • • 6	3 2 1 4 5 6

1.2 Braillewriters, Computer Braille Programs, and Braille Slates

There are three methods of braille transcription—braillewriter, computer using a special braille program, and slate and stylus. The braillewriter and the computer work in much the same way in that they use six keys corresponding to the braille cell as shown above.

When a braille slate is used, the embossing appears on the underside of the paper. Therefore, the writing is done from right to left, so that when the page is turned over it can be read from left to right. For this reason dots 1, 2, and 3 are brailled at the right-hand side of the braille cell on the slate; dots 4, 5, and 6 at the left-hand side.

1.3 The First Ten Letters of the Alphabet

The first ten letters of the alphabet are formed by using the upper and middle dots of the cell, and they are the foundation of the braille system.

Memorize the following letters by their dot numbers and configurations.

a	b	c	d	e	f	g	h	i	j

Drill 1

Thoroughly familiarize yourself with the first ten letters of the alphabet by brailleing the following letters and words. Reading across, start each line in the first cell. Leave one blank cell (space) between letter or words. Your work on this and all subsequent drills should not be submitted to the instructor for correction.

aba j gabi d higa f habi b haba a bibe i daga h giba g higad c agad e

1.4 The Second Ten Letters of the Alphabet

The second ten letters of the alphabet are formed by adding dot 3 to each of the first ten. Thus, k is formed by adding dot 3 to a, l by adding dot 3 to b, and so on.

a	b	c	d	e	f	g	h	i	j
⠁	⠃	⠉	⠙	⠑	⠋	⠗	⠕	⠎	⠚
k	l	m	n	o	p	q	r	s	t
⠅	⠇	⠓	⠏	⠥	⠕	⠖	⠗	⠎	⠞

Drill 2

Practice the letters learned by Brailleing the words in the following drill.

ama ano apa siso masa taba lata keso
lola laba sapa tasa

1.5 The Last Six Letters of the Alphabet

The letters u, v, x, y, and z are formed by adding dots 3 and 6 to the first five letters. Thus, u is formed by adding dots 3 and 6 to a, and so on. The letter w, dots 2-4-5-6, does not fit into this pattern because Louis Braille devised the braille system in France in the mid-19th century, and the French alphabet did not then contain the letter w.

⠁	⠃	⠉	⠙	⠑	⠋	⠗	⠕	⠎	⠚

Drill 3

When you have learned the final six letters of the alphabet, braille the following words for practice.

kilo uwi dvd cd walo
tasa puso upo puno tv

1.6 Additional Letters of the Filipino Alphabet

The letters ñ and ng are added to the Filipino Braille Alphabet. Thus ñ is formed by adding dot 4 and letter n, ng is written by brailing letters n and g.

EXERCISE

Prepare the following exercise and submit it to the instructor for correction. Read down the columns. Starting on line 1, begin each word in the first cell of a new braille line. Do not skip lines; you should have 25 words on the first page and 23 on the second. If you are using a braillewriter, be sure that you position every page correctly by pushing down on the line-space key (farthest key to the left) one time before you start to braille. Add your name in braille at the end of the exercise or as your teacher directs. (Correspondence students: For the convenience of our braille-reading instructors and non-braille-reading clerical staff, add your name in braille and print at the end of each exercise.)

Lesson 2

Capitalization, Paragraphing, Punctuation

2.1 Capital Letters and Fully Capitalized Words

In braille, there is no separate alphabet of capital letters. Instead, capitalization is indicated by placing the capital sign (dot 6) immediately before the letter affected. When all of the letters in a word are capitals, the double capital sign (dot 6 placed in two consecutive cells immediately before the word) is used. Examples:

Quezon City

QUEZON CITY

The capital sign is known as a composition sign. Composition signs, which are peculiar to braille, are configurations that, when placed before a braille character, give it a special meaning or designate a change in print typeface. They are necessary because the dots or bumps that represent braille letters cannot be enlarged like print capitals or altered like print italics. You will learn four other composition signs as the course progresses.

Drill 5

Practice brailleing the following to familiarize yourself with the use of the capital sign. Reading down the columns, place each name on a separate line.

Anita	Alma Reyes
UST	Quiapo
Cebu	Bibliya
GLORIA	LOPEZ HOSPITAL
RUDY ROXAS	SIBIKA
EL NIÑO	Wika

2.2 Paragraphing

Paragraphs in general reading material are indicated in braille by starting the first word of each new paragraph in the third space, or cell, of a new line. All following lines start at the margin. This rule applies even if the text is printed in block form (no paragraph indentions) with blank lines between the paragraphs. Never leave a blank line between paragraphs unless the print indicates a break in thought or scene by means of extra spacing.

Occasionally, for visual appeal, print uses one enlarged or ornate letter or all capital letters in the first few words at the beginning of a chapter or other division. In braille, this practice is ignored. Such paragraphs should be properly indented and normal capitalization used.

2.3 Period, Question Mark, Exclamation Point, Comma, Semicolon, Colon

The use, order and spacing of braille punctuation should follow print practice except in specific instances to be covered later in this manual. As in print, only one space (cell) is left empty following commas and semicolons. However, unlike print which often leaves two blank spaces following a colon and between sentences, only one empty cell is left in braille.

Learn the following punctuation signs:

English Name	Tagalog Name	Print Symbols	Braille Symbols	Dot Equivalent
Period	Tuldok	.	⠆	2-5-6
Question mark	Tandang Pananong	?	⠏	2-3-6
Exclamation point	Tandang Pandamdang	!	⠏	2-3-5
Comma	Kuwit	,	⠂	2
Semicolon	Tuldok-kuwit	;	⠒	2-3
Colon	Tutuldok	:	⠒	3-5

Drill 6

Practice braille the following sentences. Treat each sentence as a paragraph, starting in cell 3 with runover lines starting at the margin—regardless of how it appears in print.

Malaki si Roda kay Ramon.
 Nasa Cebu si Paul, Amy, Susie.
 Naku! Mali!
 Diyos ko po!
 Isulat: mesa, lapis, krayola, puno
 Ano? Nahilo?
 Tahimik si Rey.
 Mahusay na duktor si Dr. Tirso H. Gomez.

2.4 Apostrophe, Quotation Marks, Parentheses, Brackets

Now learn the following additional punctuation signs:

English Name	Tagalog Name	Print Symbols	Braille Symbols	Dot Equivalent
Apostrophe	Kudlit	'	⠠	3
Opening Double Quotation Mark	Panipi	“	⠠	2-3-6
Closing Double Quotation Mark	Panipi	”	⠠	3-5-6
Opening Single Quotation Mark	Panipi	‘	⠠⠠	6, 2-3-6
Closing Single Quotation Mark	Panipi	’	⠠⠠	3-5-6, 3
Opening Parenthesis	Panaklong	(	⠠	2-3-5-6
Closing Parenthesis	Panaklong	)	⠠	2-3-5-6
Opening Bracket	Panaklong	[	⠠⠠	6, 2-3-5-6
Closing Bracket	Panaklong	]	⠠⠠	2-3-5-6, 3

Note that of the characters above, the braille equivalents for brackets and single quotation marks are formed by using the dots in two braille cells. These configurations are referred to as two-cell signs.

2.4a Apostrophe with capital letters. A capital sign must be placed immediately before the letter to which it applies. Therefore, if an apostrophe comes before a capital letter in print, the apostrophe is brailled before the capital sign. Example:

“Tay, manonood po ako ng TV.”

The figure consists of 12 sub-diagrams arranged in a single row, labeled (a) through (l). Each diagram shows a 2D lattice of points. The points are represented by small black dots. The lattice starts as a regular grid in (a) and evolves through various stages of deformation and fragmentation in (b) through (l). The diagrams illustrate the process of a system's evolution over time, showing how the lattice structure changes and eventually fragments into smaller, disconnected components.

A capital sign is not repeated following an apostrophe in a fully capitalized word.

O'NEIL'S PUB

[illegible]

Drill 7

Practice braille the following sentences, treating each as a paragraph. Braille the quotation marks and other punctuation in the same sequence as they appear in print.

Pagdating sa “jamboree site,” nagtayo ng “tent” ang mga iskawt.
 (Alin, Ano, Sino) ang napiling pupunta sa “jamboree”?
 Commission on Higher Education (CHED)
 “Nakapasa s’ya sa iskolarsyip sa PHILIPPINE SCIENCE HIGH SCHOOL.”
 Nagpapasimuno ang “Philippine Business For Social Progress” (PBSO) at “Makati Garden Club” na linisin at pagandahin ang Maqueda Bay.
 “Tay, maaari po ba akong manood ng TV?”

2.5 Hyphen, Dash, Double Dash

The hyphen, dash and double dash are represented in braille as follows:

English Name	Tagalog Name	Print Symbols	Braille Symbols	Dot Equivalent
Hyphen	Gitling	-	⠤	3-6
Dash	Gatlang	--	⠤⠤	3-6, 3-6
Double dash	Patlang	----	⠤⠤⠤⠤	3-6, 3-6, 3-6, 3-6

2.5a The hyphen. As in print, the principal uses of the hyphen are to divide words at the end of a line and to connect the components of compound words or numbers. Wherever there is room on a line for one or more syllables and a hyphen, as many syllables should be brailled on that line as space will permit. No space should be left between the last syllable on the line and the hyphen. The hyphen cannot start a new line. Examples:

musi- ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ bahay-ba- ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ ka ⠠⠠ hayan ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠

A single-syllable word, such as ang, at, or nang, can never be divided. When dividing a multiple-syllable word between lines, division can be made only between syllables. Students of this course are expected to divide words between lines whether working on a braillewriter, computer, or slate and stylus.

2.5a(1) Syllabication. Correct syllabication of words is far from easy, and even dictionaries sometimes differ. Until the transcriber has learned correct word division either by memory or by educated instinct, it is advisable to

One space is always left before beginning a new braille sentence. Thus, if a dash begins an incomplete sentence, or a fragment of a sentence or thought, it is preceded by a space. And, when a dash falls at the end of an incomplete sentence or thought, it is followed by a space. See example in Lesson 2.5*b*(2).

- 2.5b(2) In conjunction with other punctuation. When a dash that begins or ends an incomplete sentence is preceded or followed by a quotation mark or some other mark of punctuation, no space is left between the dash and the punctuation. Example:

Nakuha ba ni Dan ang susi-- Ay, hindi--! Naka'y Tim. "—sandali, sandali!"

- 2.5b(3) With composition signs. Unlike a hyphen, a braille dash terminates the effect of a capital sign. Even though a space is not left before or after a dash, if the words on both sides of the dash are fully capitalized, the double capital sign is repeated following the dash. Example:

BATAS MORAL—BATAS NG KABUTIHAN

- 2.5b(4) Division between lines. When a dash is preceded and followed by a word, it can either end or begin a braille line—but a braille dash can never be divided between lines. Example:

Tayo'y maglaro ng sungka—o piko.

[or]

Braille signs that are formed in the lower part of the cell (dots 2, 3, 5, 6) are called lower signs. You may have noticed that all punctuations are formed in the lower part of the cell. Unless a lower sign is in contact with another configuration that has a dot in the upper part of the cell

When a dash is followed by punctuation and a space, it cannot start a new braille line—for to do so would violate the rule mentioned above. If there is no room at the end of the braille line for the dash and the following punctuation, the last syllable of the preceding word must be carried to the next line. Example:

[Correct]

[Incorrect]

Si Inay ay masarap ____.

Si G. _____, ay mabuting tao!

Si G. H____z ay mabuting tao!

Si G. H-----z ay mabuting tao!

Lesson 3

Cardinal Numbers

3.1 In General

There are no special braille symbols for cardinal numbers. Instead, the numbers 1 through 9, including 0, are expressed by the letters a through j preceded by the number sign (dots 3-4-5-6). The number sign, like the capital sign, is a special braille composition sign. Examples:

1	2	3	4	10	67	89
⠠⠠		⠠⠠		⠠⠠		⠠⠠
	⠠⠠⠠		⠠⠠⠠		⠠⠠⠠

3.1a The effect of the number sign. Intervening commas, colons, or hyphens do not terminate the effect of the number sign. Examples:

1,000,000	8:30	1850-57
⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠	⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠	⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠

A space or a mark of punctuation other than a comma, colon, or hyphen will terminate the effect of the number sign. Therefore, if a space or such punctuation falls in the middle of a number, the number sign must be repeated. Examples:

1 800 534-8765
⠠⠠ ⠠⠠⠠⠠ ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠

1910?-1917	6(18)4
⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠	⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠

3.1b Dividing hyphenated and long numbers between lines. Numbers that are joined by a hyphen and appear together on one line do not require a second number sign before the second number. If, however, the hyphen joining two numbers falls at the end of the braille line, the number sign must be repeated at the beginning of the following line. Examples:

1990-96	⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠	1990-	⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠
		96	⠠⠠⠠

NOTE: Long numbers may be divided between lines only following a comma--and when at least four digits of the number remain on the first line. Numbers without commas or of six digits or fewer should not be divided between braille Practice brailleing the following sentences. In this, and all future drills, treat each sentence as a paragraph. Be sure to include the number and its period at the beginning of each paragraph. Leave one empty cell between the period and the beginning of the sentence.

2. Edad ni Lolo-75; Lola-68; Tiya-43; Tiyo-50
3. Itext mo: 0918-735-4216
4. Tel. No. ni Cely – 926-45-78
5. Klase nila: 7:45-8:50 n.u.

Read the following phrases and write them out in longhand. Do not submit this work to your instructor. Compare your work with the print version in Appendix A.

EXERCISE

Prepare the following exercise for submission to the instructor. Number the sentences as you did in Drill 8. The first line of each page should have the centered heading LESSON 3 in full capital letters, and a page number. Place the page number (without a period) at the extreme right-hand margin--do not include the word "page." A blank line should follow the heading on the first page only. (Correspondence students: Add your name and address in braille and print at the end of each exercise—or on a separate page, if necessary.)

Lesson 4

One-Cell Whole-Word Contractions

4.1 Contractions in General

To save space and facilitate reading, certain groups of letters appearing frequently are represented in braille by special characters known as contractions or signs. These signs may utilize one or two cells, and they may represent whole words, parts of words, or both.

Contractions that have the same or similar rules governing them are grouped together and given a name, as in the following section that discusses one-cell whole-word contractions. It is important that the names of these groupings be remembered because they will be referred to throughout the course.

4.2 One-Cell Whole-Word Contractions

The following are one-cell whole-word contractions that are represented by letters of the alphabet.

Letter	Sign	Whole-word Meaning	Letter	Sign	Whole-word Meaning
b	⠠	bakit	n	⠠	ngayon
c	⠠	kanya/kaniya	p	⠠	para
d	⠠	dahil	q	⠠	kailan
f	⠠	paano	r	⠠	rin
g	⠠	ganoon/ganon	s	⠠	sang-ayon
h	⠠	hindi	t	⠠	tayo
i	⠠	ikaw	u	⠠	upang
j	⠠	hakbang	v	⠠	bagaman
k	⠠	kaya	w	⠠	wala
l	⠠	lamang	x	⠠	ito
m	⠠	mga	y	⠠	yaman
z	⠠	sa

The following are one-cell whole-word contractions represented by non-alphabet symbols.

Sign	Whole-word Meaning	Sign	Whole-word Meaning
⋮	ako	⋮	kanila
⋮	anak	⋮	maging
⋮	ang	⋮	mahal
⋮	araw	⋮	na
⋮	at	⋮	naging
⋮	ay	⋮	ng
⋮	hanggang	⋮	pag
⋮	ibig	⋮	raw
⋮	ingay	⋮	tunay

NOTE: One-cell whole-word contractions should be used and read as words only when they stand alone on a line, except in special cases as explained in this chapter.

4.2a Words with more than one meaning. One-cell whole-word contractions may be used even if the words they represent have more than one meaning. Examples:

⋮ kaya: meaning doubt, ability, or consequently ⋮ lamang: meaning only, advantage, or as

⋮ para: meaning for, stop, or seem

⋮ tayo: meaning we, stand, or condition

4.2b With an apostrophe. These contractions are used when followed by the apostrophe in the following combinations only:

ako't	for	ako at	ako'y	for	ako ay
tayo't	for	tayo at	tayo'y	for	tayo ay
kaya't	for	kaya at	ito'y	for	ito ay

11. Bakit kaya siya ganoon?

One-Cell Part-Word Contractions

5.1 One-Cell Part-Word Contractions

The following are called one-cell part-word contractions.

⠠	an	⠩	ing
⠡	ang	⠪	mag
⠢	ar	⠫	ma h al
⠣	at	⠬	na g
⠤	aw	⠭	ng
⠥	er	⠨	pa g
⠦	han	⠴	tu
⠧	ibig

5.2 Parts of Words

The signs listed above take on their part-word meanings when they are used as parts of words. All the part-word signs in this section may be used in the beginning, middle or end of a word, except for the part-word contraction for “at” (see rule on Lesson 5.3). Examples:

⠠⠠	a ngat
⠠⠡⠠	a ng h ang
⠠⠢⠠	a wi t
⠠⠢⠡⠠⠠	bun g al
⠠⠢⠠⠠	h an d a

⠠⠢⠡⠠⠠⠠	pa g ma h al
⠠⠢⠠⠠	saw i
⠠⠢⠡⠠⠠⠠	sul o ng

5.3 Contraction “at”

Unlike other contractions, the one-cell part-word contraction for “at” has special rules regarding placement. This is because this sign is the same as the number sign. To avoid confusing the “at” sign for a number sign, the following rules apply.

5.3a When not to use contraction “at.” The one-cell part-word contraction for “at” should not be used in the following cases.

5.3a(1) Do not use at the beginning of a word. Examples:

ate	⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠	not	a te	⠠⠠⠠⠠
atip	⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠	not	a tip	⠠⠠⠠⠠
atay	⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠	not	a tay	⠠⠠⠠⠠

5.3a(2) Do not use in the middle of a two-syllable word ending in a, e, or i.
Examples:

gata	⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠	not	ga a	⠠⠠⠠⠠
yate	⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠	not	ya e	⠠⠠⠠⠠
hati	⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠	not	ha i	⠠⠠⠠⠠

5.3b When the contraction “at” can be used. The one-cell part-word contraction for “at” should be used only as shown in the following examples.

5.3b(1) Use in the middle of a two-syllable word not ending in a, e or i.
Examples:

ga t as	⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠	ba t ya	⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠	la t ak	⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠
----------------	--------	----------------	--------	----------------	--------

5.3b(2) Use in the middle of a two-syllable word if at will be followed by a consonant.

Examples:

katha ⠠⠏⠗⠑⠗⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑

tatlo ⠠⠏⠗⠑⠗⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑

gatla ⠠⠏⠗⠑⠗⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑

5.3b(3) Use in the middle of a three-or-more-syllable word. Examples:

gatilyo ⠠⠏⠗⠑⠗⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑ matiwasay ⠠⠏⠗⠑⠗⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑

matalim ⠠⠏⠗⠑⠗⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑

matahimik ⠠⠏⠗⠑⠗⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑

5.3b(4) Use as the final syllable of a word. Examples:

sat ⠠⠏⠗⠑⠗⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑

akyat ⠠⠏⠗⠑⠗⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑

sarat ⠠⠏⠗⠑⠗⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑

awat ⠠⠏⠗⠑⠗⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑

5.4 Hyphenated words

5.4a Contractions in hyphenated words. The following examples show the acceptable use of one-cell part-word contractions in hyphenated words.

5.4a(1) The one-cell part-word contractions for “mag”- and “nag”- may be used in hyphenated words. They may stand before the hyphen or as runovers in words divided at the end of the line. Examples:

mag- ⠠⠏⠗⠑⠗⠑⠑⠑⠑

asawa ⠠⠏⠗⠑⠗⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑

mag- ⠠⠏⠗⠑⠗⠑⠑⠑⠑

atubili ⠠⠏⠗⠑⠗⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑

5.4a(2) All the one-cell part-word contractions whose part-word and whole-word meanings are the same, such as the contractions for “mahal”, “pag”, “ibig”, etc, may be used in hyphenated words. They may stand before the hyphen or as runovers in words divided at the end of the line. Examples:

mahal- ⠠⠏⠗⠑⠗⠑⠑⠑⠑

la- ⠠⠏⠗⠑⠗⠑⠑⠑⠑

mahalan ⠠⠏⠗⠑⠗⠑⠑⠑⠑

5.4a(3) The signs for one-cell part-word contractions whose part-word meanings are different from their whole-word meanings, such as the signs for “han”, “an”, “ar”, etc., should not be used before the hyphen or as runovers in words divided at the end of the line. Examples:

6.1a May be used as words or parts of words. The two-cell contractions introduced by dot 5 may be used as words or parts of words. Prefixes, suffixes, letters or ligatures may be added to them even if the addition may form words whose meanings may or may not be related to the original meanings of the words to which such addition has been made. Examples:

sabik	⠠⠠⠠⠠	ugaling	⠠⠠⠠⠠
paglalarawan	⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠	kailangang	⠠⠠⠠⠠
paggunita	⠠⠠⠠⠠	magkabilaan	⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠

gunita 't	⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠	masama 'y	⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠

napaka gat	⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠
pinaka mahusay	⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠
pinaka sap	⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠

NOTE: The contractions for “napaka” and “pinaka” should not be used in words like “napakanta,” “napakarga,” “pinakanta,” “pinakarga,” etc. because they are neither used as a prefix nor do they constitute the first three syllables of said words.

Lower Signs as Whole-word / Part-word Contractions

7.1 One-cell Lower Signs.

The lower signs, which may be used as whole words or parts of words, are formed by using the lower half of the Braille cell (dots 2, 3, 5, and 6). These contractions are as follows:

Signs	Whole-Word Meaning	Part-Word Meaning	Signs	Whole-Word Meaning	Part-Word Meaning
⠠	ba	ba	⠡	--	ga
⠢	ka	ka	⠣	--	ha
⠤	--	da	⠥	inyo	in
⠦	--	en	⠧	--	umi
⠨	pa	pa	⠩	--	kina

7.2 Whole-Word Lower Signs

7.2a The whole-word lower signs for “ba”, “ka”, “pa”, and “inyo” may be preceded by the capital or italic sign, but should never be in contact with punctuation marks, except with apostrophe t (’t) or y (’y). Examples:

Aalis ka ba?
⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ ⠠ ⠠⠠⠠⠠

Magbihis ka’t aalis na tayo.
⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ ⠠⠠⠠⠠ ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ ⠠ ⠠⠠⠠⠠

Siya ba’y kaibigan mo?
⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ ⠠⠠⠠⠠ ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ ⠠⠠⠠⠠

7.2b The ligature ng may be added to the whole-word lower sign for “inyo”. Example:

Siya ang inyong lola.
 ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ ⠠⠠ ⠠⠠⠠ ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠

7.2c When the words “ba”, “ka”, and “pa” are followed by a ligature ng, the one-cell part-word sign for “ang” should be used instead of the lower signs. Examples:

bang ⠠⠠ not bang ⠠⠠

Ex.

Ano bang uri ng hayop iyan?
 ⠠⠠⠠⠠ ⠠⠠ ⠠⠠⠠⠠ ⠠ ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠

kang ⠠⠠ not kang ⠠⠠

Wala kang pasok sa paaralan bukas.
 ⠠⠠⠠ ⠠⠠ ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ ⠠ ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠

pang ⠠⠠ not pang ⠠⠠

Ex.

Wala pang alas dose.
 ⠠⠠⠠ ⠠⠠ ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠

7.3Part-Word Lower Signs

7.3a The part-word lower signs for “ba”, “ka”, “da”, “pa”, and “umi” may be used only as the beginning or middle parts of words. They may be used as the end parts of words only if they are in contact with apostrophe t (’t) or y (’y). Examples:

bato ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ pagkakaisa ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ madali ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ mapalad ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠
lumikha ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠
naglabat’t nagluto ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠

- 7.3f Lower signs with hyphens. The lower signs may be used in contact with a hyphen only in hyphenated compound word and in a word divided at the end of a line, provided that one of the lower signs is in contact with an upper sign containing a dot 1 or a dot 4. Examples:

sumipa-sipa ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠

tumipa-tipa ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠

aka- ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠

lain ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠

palipa- ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ ran ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠

- 7.3g If both the contraction and the lower sign form syllables. The one cell-part word contractions for “ang”, “an”, “ar”, “at”, and “aw” should be used in preference to the part-word lower signs when they follow correct syllabication. Examples:

bangko ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ not

bangko ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠

pansit ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ not

pansit ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠

barya ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ not

⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠

kakasapin

⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠

mababago

⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠

⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠

7.4 Choice and Use of One-cell Contractions / Lower Signs

Unless otherwise restricted by specific provisions in the other sections or subsections of this Code, the choice and use of contractions should be based on the following guidelines.

- 7.4a Saving space. If it is possible to use two or more alternative contractions in a word, preference should be given to the contraction (or contractions) which would save the greater amount of space. Examples:

handog
⠠⠏⠠⠏⠠⠏

not handog

⠠⠏⠠⠏⠠⠏⠠⠏

mahalin
⠠⠏⠠

not

mahalin
⠠⠏⠠⠏⠠⠏⠠⠏

maganda
⠠⠏⠠⠏⠠⠏

not maganda

⠠⠏⠠⠏⠠⠏⠠⠏⠠⠏

⠠⠏⠠⠏⠠⠏

not naganap

⠠⠏⠠⠏⠠⠏⠠⠏⠠⠏

pagandahin
⠠⠏⠠⠏⠠⠏⠠⠏⠠⠏

sinag
⠠⠏⠠⠏

not

sinag
⠠⠏⠠⠏⠠⠏

tinagin
⠠⠏⠠⠏⠠⠏

not

⠠⠏⠠⠏⠠⠏⠠⠏

7.4b Preference given to correct syllabication. If it would save an equal amount of space to use a certain contraction versus any of its alternatives, then preference should be given to the contraction which indicates correct syllabication. Examples:

bawat		not	bawat
kanin		not	kanin
kapatid		not	kapatid
dati		not	dati

pagalingin		not	pagalingin
ihatid		not	ihatid
magpagamot		not	magpagamot

7.4c No alternative contraction available. If the only available contraction has no alternative, it should still be used even if its use would violate the primary syllabication of a word. Examples:

angatin		buwanan
arawan		nariyan
bingi		tawa
pera

Lesson 10

Letter Sign, Speech Mannerisms, Divided Words and Proper Names

10.1 Letter Sign in General

The letter sign (dots 5-6), also known as the letter indicator, is a composition sign like the capital sign and the number sign. It is used to indicate that a letter or letter grouping has a letter meaning, and is not a whole-word contraction or a short-form word. Thus, the letter d standing alone has the whole word meaning dahil, but if a letter sign precedes it, it is read as the letter d. The letter sign is also used to differentiate between letters and numbers, and is used with Roman numerals (to be studied Lesson 13.2).

10.1a Letter Sign Used to Identify Single Letters

A letter sign is placed immediately before a single, lower-case letter. If the letter is capitalized, the letter sign is placed before the capital sign. Examples:

Ang tamang sagot ay k.

K ang nakalagay sa kahon.

[illegible]

10.1a(1) Single-letter abbreviations. Place a letter sign before a single-letter abbreviation that is not followed by a period so that it will not be mistaken for a whole-word contraction. Examples:

Jose Cruz y Reyes

Ang E Coli ay nakamamatay.

The figure consists of 10 small 4x4 grids, each representing a step in the evolution of a pattern of dots. The dots are represented by black squares. The sequence starts with a single dot at the top-left corner (row 1, column 1) and progresses through various configurations, eventually filling the entire 4x4 grid. The first row contains the first five steps, and the second row contains the next five steps.

10.1b Letters in Combination with Punctuation

10.1b(1) Letters joined to words or other letters by a hyphen. A letter sign precedes any single letter that means a letter when it is joined to a word by a hyphen so that it won't be misread as a one-cell, whole-word contraction. When a hyphen or a dash joins letters of the alphabet, a letter sign precedes each letter. Examples:

Mga letrang a-j

Kanong R—M ang maaaring gamitin.

[illegible]

10.1b(2) Enclosed letters

10.1b(2.1) In regular text. If a single letter or letter grouping is enclosed in quotation marks, parentheses, or brackets, or is printed in italics (to be studied in Lesson 14.1)—and such enclosures or typeface changes have no other purpose than to distinguish the letter or letters--in braille the letter sign is used to keep it from being read as a whole-word contraction or a short-form word, and the enclosing punctuation marks and typeface changes are ignored. Examples:

Pangkat “B” ang nanalo

1. English 2. English Handels.

Do Not Use the Letter Sign

1. With the word a, e, or i.
2. With letters that are followed or preceded by an apostrophe, hyphen, or dash indicating omitted letters. With letters designating topics in outlines or listings if they are followed by or enclosed in punctuation.
3. With letter groupings that could not be mistaken for a short-form word.
4. With words, names, or letter groupings that correspond to short-form words, but, because of context, could not be mistaken for one.
5. With a contraction that immediately follows a number, as in ordinal numbers.
6. With any letter that is immediately followed by a number.
7. With letter groupings followed immediately by a number, or by a hyphen and a number, that will not be confused with a short-form word.
8. With words following a number and a hyphen, unless all of the letters of the word could be misread as a number.
9. In stammered words (see Lesson 10.2*a*).
10. With initials and abbreviations followed by periods or a slash (to be studied in Lesson 11.4).

10.2 Speech Mannerisms

In the preceding section it was stated that when a letter is joined to a word by a hyphen, the letter sign should precede the letter. In speech mannerisms such as stammering, speech hesitation, and vocal sounds, letters are separated by hyphens but they are actually part of the word itself. In such cases, the letter sign is not used.

10.2a Stammering. When brailleing stammered words, the letter or contraction preceding and following the hyphen must be identical. Therefore, contractions cannot always be used. Examples:

m-m-m-may ahas

t-t-t-tatay ko ⠠⠏⠤⠐⠢⠒⠠⠎⠠⠃⠠⠑⠠⠽⠠⠓⠠⠙⠠⠗⠠⠕

s-s-saan

EXCEPTION: When a word that can be represented by a one-cell whole-word contraction is stammered, such as b-b-bakit or w-w-wala, the contraction is not used even though the letters are the same before and after the hyphen (   ). The use of the contractions would render the words in braille as bakit-bakit-bakit and wala-wala-wala.

Short-form words may be used in stammered words only if the short-form begins with the same letter or contraction as the stammered portion. Examples:

k-k-karapatan p-p-p-pamahalaan

When dividing a stammered word between lines, the stammered portion should not be separated from the rest of the word. However, such words may be divided after any syllable in the unstammered portion. Example:

w-w-watawat  not

10.3 Divided Words

10.3a Words divided into syllables. In syllabicated words the hyphen always occurs at the end of a syllable; therefore they may be divided between lines after any hyphen.

10.3a(1) Spelling words and words under study. No contractions are used in spelling words or in words that are being analyzed or that have been broken into parts in order to focus upon spelling, pronunciation, or word construction. Example:

“Baybayin mo nga ang `pa-na-nam-pa-la-ta-ya,` Rosa?”

10.3b Spelled-Out Words. When the letters of a spelled-out word are separated from each other by hyphens, black dots, stars, or spaces, in braille a hyphen is placed between the letters and, when necessary, a transcriber's note (to be studied in Lesson 15.4) is inserted to explain that the hyphens do not exist in print. Each upper case letter is capitalized individually and letter signs are not used. Example:

[illegible]

Divide spelled-out words only at the end of a syllable. Do not divide a beginning or ending single-letter syllable from the rest of the word. Example:

| | | | |
|-------------|--------|------------|------------|
| A-r-a-b-i-a | A-r-a- | not | A-r-a-b-i- |
| | b-i-a | | a |

10.4 PROPER NAMES

10.4a Filipino Proper Names. Full contractions should be used in all proper names provided that proper pronunciation will not be affected. The rule of contraction preferences must be applied. Examples:

Madrigal

⠠⠇⠠⠃⠗⠊⠒⠁⠒⠊⠇

Balintawak

⠠⠃⠠⠊⠇⠊⠃⠠⠗⠠⠗⠠⠗

Magsaysay

⠠⠇⠠⠒⠠⠎⠠⠎⠠⠎

Halili

⠠⠏⠠⠊⠇⠊

Magtanggol

⠠⠇⠠⠒⠠⠒⠠⠒⠠⠒

Tagumpay

⠠⠒⠠⠒⠠⠒

EXCEPTION: When two or more adjoined vowels create one sound, contraction that may be formed with these vowels should not be used. Examples:

Bauan

⠠⠃⠠⠗⠠⠗

Juan

⠠⠒⠠⠗

NOTE: Contractions are not used when proper names appear within foreign phrases that are set off in a different typeface.

Lesson 11

Abbreviations, Personal Initials, Initialisms and Acronyms, Slash (Oblique Stroke), Ditto Sign, Telephone Numbers, Postal Codes, Dates

11.1 Abbreviations in General

The short-form or abbreviated words studied in Lesson 8 are peculiar to braille. Standard abbreviations, however, are commonly used in print and are represented in braille according to specific rules.

Abbreviations, when brailled, should follow print capitalization, punctuation, order, and spacing except in certain circumstances. A letter sign is not used with an abbreviation unless it could be confused with a word or short-form word. Examples:

| | | | |
|--------|--------------|------|----------|
| n.u. | ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ | Dr. | ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ |
| Y-Buds | ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ | AWOL | ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ |
| ASAP | ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ | | |

11.1a Capitalization in Abbreviations. When two or more capital letters in an abbreviation follow one another with no intervening periods the double capital sign is used. Following a period, the capital or double capital sign is repeated. In abbreviations that have both upper and lower case letters, it is suggested that each upper case letter be capitalized individually. Examples:

| | | | |
|----------|--------------|-------|----------|
| PGH | ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ | DepEd | ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ |
| GMA | ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ | Ph.D. | ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ |
| Y.M.C.A. | ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ | | |

As in the case of a hyphenated compound word, the double capital sign placed before a hyphenated compound abbreviation indicates that all the letters of the abbreviation are capitals, and the capital sign is not repeated after the hyphen. Such a compound abbreviation may be divided at the end of line after the hyphen. Examples:

| | |
|--------------|----------|
| BSP-GSP | BSP-GSP |
| ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ | ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ |
| | ⠠⠠⠠⠠ |

- 11.1b Contractions in abbreviations. As a general rule contractions are used in abbreviations that represent a single word regardless of whether or not they could have been used in the complete word. Examples:

Gng. ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠

Pang. ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠

- 11.1c Avoiding confusion between whole-word contractions or short-form words and abbreviations. Place a letter sign before an abbreviation not followed by a period that could be confused with a whole-word contraction or a short-form word. Examples:

p 1850 ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠

p. 1850 ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠

11.2 Personal Initials

Personal initials are capitalized, punctuated, and spaced as they appear in print. Like abbreviations in general, they should not be divided between braille lines if they appear in print unspaced. In the following example, because there is no space between the C. and the C., C.C.Aquino could only be divided after the C.C. A division could be made at any space in Gng. G. M. Arroyo. Examples:

C.C. Aquino

⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠

Gng. G. M. Arroyo

⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠

Initials that are used for an entire name, as in F.V.R., should not be divided between braille lines whether they are spaced in print or not. Examples:

F.V.R. ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠

C. P. G. ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠

Place a letter sign before an initial that is not followed by a period so that it will not be read as a whole-word contraction. Example:

Raul S Roco ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠

Tumawag si Bb. X kanina.

The figure consists of 10 diagrams arranged in two rows of five. Each diagram shows a grid of dots. The first row shows the progression from a 2x2 grid to a 3x3 grid, and then to a 4x4 grid. The second row shows the progression from a 4x4 grid to a 5x5 grid. The diagrams are labeled with numbers 1 through 10.

Dumating si Bb. X.

Figure 1 shows four 3x3 dot patterns labeled (a), (b), (c), and (d). Each pattern is a 3x3 grid of dots, with some dots missing. The number of dots in each pattern is 10, 11, 12, and 13 respectively.

11.7 Postal Codes

Postal districts and ZIP codes are spaced in braille as they appear in print. Do not use contractions in postal codes or divide them between lines. Example:

C.P.O. 1099

11.8 Dates

When a date is indicated by the numbers of the month, day, and year (or day, month, and year) separated by a slash, hyphen, or dot, follow print as to the sequence. Use a hyphen in braille to connect the numbers. Only one number sign should precede the entire group. Do not divide between lines. Example:

4/1/05 or 4-1-05

If inclusive dates are joined by a hyphen or a dash, the number sign must be repeated before the second date. Example:

12.1 Symbols for Coinage, Weight, Measure, and Other Special Symbols

When in print a number, letter, or word is preceded or followed by an abbreviation and/or a symbol, in braille follow the print with respect to order, spelling, capitalization, punctuation, and spacing.

Some print symbols are brailled as letter abbreviations while others have distinctive configurations.

12.1a Print symbols brailled as letter abbreviations. The following print symbols are represented in braille by letters.

12.1b Print symbols that have distinctive braille equivalents. The following print symbols have unique braille equivalents. These equivalents are used, and the print order followed, whenever the print symbols are encountered. They are:

| Print Symbol | Braille Equivalent | Meaning |

12.1d Dividing between lines. Do not separate a symbol from the word, letter, or number to which it pertains. Numbers, symbols, and/or abbreviations that constitute a unit, such as 6'2" or 27°35'S, should not be divided between lines.

Lesson 13

Ordinal Numbers, Roman Numerals, Fractions, Decimals, Mathematical Signs of Operation, Superscripts and Subscript, Clock Time, and Electronic Addresses

13.1 Ordinal Numbers.

In writing ordinal numbers, the contracted form for the ordinal prefix (ika) followed by a hyphen and a number may be used. The ordinal prefix (pang) or (pan) may also be contracted, however, preference should be given to the contraction which indicates correct syllabication like pa – nga – la – wa and pa – ngat – lo. Examples.

| | | | |
|-----------|----------|-----------|----------|
| ika-2 | ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ | pang-apat | ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ |
| ika-9 | ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ | pangalawa | ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ |
| pang-anim | ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ | pangatlo | ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ |
| panlima | ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ | | |

13.2 Roman Numerals

13.2a In general. Use the braille letters, just as in print, when transcribing roman numerals. If roman numerals are printed in capital letters, in braille those consisting of a single letter are preceded by a single capital sign, and those consisting of more than one letter are preceded by the double capital sign. If roman numerals are printed in lowercase letters, a single letter sign is placed before the corresponding braille letter or letters. Examples:

| | | | |
|-----|-------|------|------|
| V | XL | iv | iii |
| ⠠⠠⠠ | ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ | ⠠⠠⠠⠠ | ⠠⠠⠠⠠ |

13.2b With hyphen, dash, or colon. When roman numerals are separated by a hyphen, dash, or colon, the appropriate capital sign, double capital sign, or letter sign is repeated after the punctuation. For readability, these units should not be divided between braille lines. Examples:

| | | |
|----------|----------|--------|
| VI-X | V—X | V:X |
| ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ | ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ | ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ |

13.4 Decimals

In braille the decimal point is represented by dots 4-6, not the period. The number sign is always placed before the decimal point. Like fractions, when a decimal fraction is joined to another number by a hyphen or a dash, a second number sign is required.

Examples:

| | | | |
|-------|-------------|------|--------|
| .8 | ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ | .54 | ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ |
| .6-10 | ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ | .003 | ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ |

13.4a Mixed numbers. When a number consists of a whole number and a decimal fraction, only one number sign is used, and it is placed before the whole number. When numbers with decimals are joined to other numbers, the number sign is repeated following the hyphen or dash. A number containing a decimal point can never be divided between lines. Examples:

| | |
|----------|---------------|
| 90.7 | ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ |
| .7-16.50 | ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ |
| 6—8.25 | ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ |
| 10-19.5 | ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ |

13.4b Coinage. The decimal point and the Peso sign are used in braille when print shows them to represent Filipino decimal coinage. Examples:

| | | | |
|----------------|----------------------|--------|-----------|
| P 3.40 | ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ | P 0.40 | ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ |
| P 2.65 – P3.85 | ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ | | |

13.5 Mathematical Signs of Operation

In general literature, the literary braille code uses words to express common mathematical signs of operation.

| | | | |
|----------------|-----------|----|--------|
| plus (+) | ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ | or | ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ |
| minus (-) | ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ | | |
| times (x) | ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ | | ⠠⠠ |
| divided by (÷) | ⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠⠠ | | ⠠⠠ |
| equals (=) | ⠠⠠ | | |

12+3 = 15

Examples:

12x12x12

12x12x12

Numbers and letters used as superscript/subscript are enclosed in parenthesis using normal spacing. The parentheses are brailled before or after the word in accordance with their placement and spacing in print. Do not confuse subscripts with footnotes (footnotes will be studied in Lesson 15). Example:

13.7 Clock Time

13.7a Definite points of time. When a definite point of time is expressed in figures, regardless of how it is shown in print, a colon is always used in braille to separate the hours, minutes, and seconds. Only one number sign is required. These numerical units cannot be divided between braille lines. Examples:

12:30 p.m.

6:45 n.g. (ng gabi) ⠠⠨⠤⠨⠶⠨⠒⠶⠠⠨⠒⠠⠨⠒⠠⠨⠒⠠

3:30 n.h. (ng hapon) ⠠⠨⠤⠢⠶⠒⠠⠨⠠⠏⠠⠨

4:15 n.u. (ng umaga)

13.7b Intervals of Time. When intervals of time are expressed by whole numbers, such as 6-7 n.g., only one number sign is needed (unless they are divided between braille lines) – the same way as any other hyphenated numerical expression. However, when two units of time are joined and the first unit consists of hours and minutes, a number sign is required before the second unit. In other words, whenever hours follow minutes, repeat the number sign.

In print, intervals of time are joined either by dash or by a hyphen. In braille, always use a hyphen. Regardless of print spacing, no space should be left before or after the braille hyphen. Division between braille lines can be made only following a print hyphen. Examples:

5-6 a.m.

3:15-6:00

7:00-9:00 n.u.

13.8 Slash Between Numbers

When the slash (oblique stroke) acts as a division line between numbers other than fractions, the number sign is repeated before the second number. Do not divide these units between braille lines. Examples:

Model #09/52

13.9 Electronic Addresses and File Names.

All e-mail, website and other Internet addresses, file names, and the like should be braille according to the rules of the Computer Braille Code. No contractions are used. Numbers are brailled in the lower part of the cell and no number sign is used. (See Example 3)

- 13.9a Entering and Exiting Computer Braille Code. Use the Begin Computer Braille Code indicator ⠠⠠⠠ (dots 4-5-6, 3-4-6) or, if appropriate, the Caps Lock indicator ⠠⠠⠠ (dots 4-5-6, 3-4-5) immediately before the first braille character in each electronic address or file name. Use the End Computer Braille Code indicator ⠠⠠⠠ (dots 4-5-6, 1-5-6) after the last character in each electronic addresses and file name.
- 13.9b Typeface. Ignore any print typeface change or other means of emphasis except capitalization for electronic addresses and file names.
- 13.9c Capitalization. To show capitalization, precede a single upper case letter with the Shift indicator ⠠ (dots 4-5-6). When two or more consecutive letters appear in upper case, use the Caps Lock indicator. Uppercase is terminated either by the Caps Release indicator ⠠⠠⠠ (dots 4-5-6, 1-2-6), by the End Computer Braille Code indicator, or by a blank cell. When the Caps Lock indicator begins an electronic address or file name, do not use the Begin Computer Braille Code indicator. (See Example 4)
- 13.9d Dividing embedded or displayed electronic addresses and file names between lines. The entire electronic address or file name, including any opening and closing indicators should be brailled on one line when possible, even if this means leaving a large part of the preceding line blank. When an electronic address is too long for one braille line, procede as follows: (See Example 4)
- 13.9d(1) Divide following a punctuation mark or symbol such as a backslash or tilde, allowing room for the Continuation indicator ⠠⠠⠠ (dots 4-5-6, 1-2-3-4-6), even if this means leaving many blank cells at the end of a line.
- 13.9d(2) At the end of each line to be continued insert the Continuation indicator immediately after the last braille character. All available cells on the braille line need not be filled.
- 13.9d(3) If, in print, a hyphen is used to show that the line is continued, do not braille this hyphen.

Do not divide an electronic address or file name at:

1. Before or after an empty braille cell which represents a significant space.
2. Between the two cells of an indicator or other two-cell symbol.
3. Following the Begin Computer Braille Code indicator, the Shift indicator, or the Caps Lock indicator.
4. Before the Caps Release indicator or the End Computer Braille Code indicator.

13.9e Literary Punctuation. For punctuation which is adjacent to, but is not part of, the electronic address or file name, use literary braille punctuation marks. Place such marks outside the Computer Braille Code indicators which begin and end the electronic address. (See example 1)

Lesson 14

Italic Sign, Ellipsis, Print Signs of Omission, Termination Signs, Stress, Foreign Words

14.1 The Italic Sign

In addition to the three composition signs already studied (the capital sign, the number sign, and the letter sign), another composition sign, the italic sign, also known as the emphasis indicator, plays an important role in braille reading. In print, when special typefaces such as italics, boldface, small capital letters, or underlining are used to emphasize or to make distinct a word or passage, these changes must be so indicated in braille. In literary braille, nearly all special typefaces are indicated by the same composition sign, the italic sign (dots 4-6).

Foreign words, titles and proper nouns such as names of ships, subject headings at the beginning of the paragraphs, silent thought, and quoted material that is printed in a special typeface all must be distinguished in braille using the italic sign. Sometimes, however, print typeface changes are used merely to make the production more visually appealing, such as when titles are printed in huge letters or script, in which case they are ignored in braille.

14.1a Single italic sign. To indicate that only one word, hyphenated compound word or expression, abbreviation, or number is in a special typeface, a single italic sign is placed before it. The effect of the italic sign continues until the reader encounters a blank cell or a slash. For that reason the italic sign is not repeated after the hyphen in a compound word, after an apostrophe, or after the first period in an unspaced abbreviation, but is repeated after a space or a slash. Note that the italic sign is placed before the capital sign. Examples:

Disyembre

| galang | ⠠⠠⠠⠠ | 000 | ⠠⠠⠠⠠ |

[illegible]

Si Tumbelina ay ubod ng liit.

Para po Mama!

Para po Mama bababa po ako!

14.1c(1) Italics with part-word lower signs. When the first syllable of a word contains the letters that comprise a part-word lower sign and that word is divided between braille lines, the lower sign cannot be used for the first syllable as this would result in two consecutive lower signs (the contraction and the hyphen), neither of which is in contact with a character containing a dot 1 or a dot 4. The application of this rule is not altered when the italic sign precedes the word. Examples:

14. 1c(2) Italics with whole-word lower signs. The capital sign and/or the italic sign may precede whole-word lower signs. Remember, however, that these whole-word contractions may not be used in contact with any punctuation. This rule is not altered when the italic sign precedes them. Examples:

[illegible]

Sino ka?

14.1d Series of titles in italics. When a series of proper nouns, such as titles of books, movies, songs, etc., is italicized in print, each title is italicized individually in Braille. Example:

Sa Lunes ang ating pag-aaralan ay ang mga kuwentong

Si Pagong at Matsing Gamit

Pambata Nakakalason at Scout

Jamboree.

14.1e Italicized passages of more than one paragraph. When an italicized passage consists of more than one paragraph, the double italic sign is placed at the beginning of each new paragraph regardless of its length or content. The single italic sign, indicating the end of the italicized material, precedes the last word of the last paragraph.

14.1f Summary: Use of the Italic

The italic sign is used in braille only when words are printed in a different typeface to indicate emphasis or distinction. The rules governing the use of the italic sign may be summarized as follows.

Use the Italic Sign (Emphasis Indicator)

1. To indicate emphasis. Use the italic sign when print emphasizes a word or phrase by placing it in a different typeface.
2. To show distinction when indicated by a special typeface in print for:
 - Foreign words or phrases.
 - Proper nouns such as names of ships, books, pictures, etc.
 - Subject headings at the beginning of paragraphs.
 - Silent thought as distinguished from conversation.
- Passages not enclosed in quotation marks that are printed in a type different from that of adjacent text--even when separated from the text by blank lines and/or change of margins.

Do Not Use the Italic Sign (Emphasis Indicator)

Italics should not be indicated in braille when they have been used in print strictly for stylistic reasons or when distinction is sufficiently indicated in braille by other means, as in the following:

1. When letters that mean letters are preceded by the letter sign.
2. When freestanding portions of words are printed in a special typeface.
3. When pronunciations are shown in both parentheses and italics.
4. Where a vertical list of words or terms, which is always brailled with a blank line before and after it, is printed in italics or boldface.
5. Where chapter titles or other centered headings are printed entirely in italics or boldface.
6. Where letters, words, or passages are shown in both quotation marks and italics, except where italics are required for emphasis or distinction.

14.2 Ellipsis

In print, the ellipsis is usually shown as three dots or asterisks used to indicate the omission of a word or words or as a pause between words. In braille, it is represented by dots 3, 3, 3. This symbol should be spaced and punctuated as a word. Examples:

Buhat! ... Buhat! ...

Sabay-sabay! ... Buhat, buhat!

The figure shows four 5x5 dot patterns. The first pattern represents the digit '1' with dots at (1,1), (1,2), (1,3), (1,4), (1,5), (2,1), (2,2), (2,3), (2,4), (2,5), (3,1), (3,2), (3,3), (3,4), (3,5), (4,1), (4,2), (4,3), (4,4), (4,5), and (5,1). The second pattern represents the digit '2' with dots at (1,1), (1,2), (1,3), (1,4), (1,5), (2,1), (2,2), (2,3), (2,4), (2,5), (3,1), (3,2), (3,3), (3,4), (3,5), (4,1), (4,2), (4,3), (4,4), (4,5), and (5,1). The third pattern represents the digit '3' with dots at (1,1), (1,2), (1,3), (1,4), (1,5), (2,1), (2,2), (2,3), (2,4), (2,5), (3,1), (3,2), (3,3), (3,4), (3,5), (4,1), (4,2), (4,3), (4,4), (4,5), and (5,1). The fourth pattern represents the digit '4' with dots at (1,1), (1,2), (1,3), (1,4), (1,5), (2,1), (2,2), (2,3), (2,4), (2,5), (3,1), (3,2), (3,3), (3,4), (3,5), (4,1), (4,2), (4,3), (4,4), (4,5), and (5,1).

14.3 Print Signs of Omission.

When print uses a long line to indicate a missing word or missing letters within a word, in braille the double dash is used. If hyphens are used in print to indicate missing letters in a word, an equal number of hyphens are brailled (See in Lesson 2.5*c*). When missing letters are indicated by dots, Braille an equal number of unspaced Braille dots (dot 3). Examples:

Rebecca A.....

14.4 Portions of Words in a Different Typeface

Occasionally in print a portion of a word is capitalized, italicized, or underlined but not separated from the rest of the word. In literary braille that portion is set apart by inserting hyphens. It is suggested that such words not be divided between lines.

Example:

kabayanihan ⠠⠏⠁⠃⠁⠑⠗⠊⠒⠆⠞⠊⠝⠎

14.4a Word analysis versus dramatic effect. If a portion of a word is distinguished because the word is being analyzed or under study, no contractions are used in any part of the word. However, if emphasized word is for dramatic effect only, contraction is used. In the example below, the word “kabayanihan” is under study, thus, it is not contracted.

kabayanihan

14.5 Termination Sign

When in print all of the letters of a word are not in the same typeface, hyphens are inserted in braille to set off the different portion. However, if the print word already contains a hyphen, the braille reader needs a different indicator to show where the italicized portion ends. The composition sign that accomplishes this is called the termination sign (dots 6,3). When the termination sign is inserted before the hyphen, it tells the reader two things: that the change in print typeface has ended and that the hyphen is present in print. Example:

patay-gutom ⠠⠏⠁⠞⠁⠽⠤⠠⠮⠞⠕⠞⠕⠞

- capital sign. Examples:

Foreign Proper Nouns. Proper nouns such as Title of Books, Chapters, Articles, Songs, Books and Name of Companies, Ships, etc., should be transcribed in Braille with italic signs and only the five barrowed contractions should be used.

Lesson 15

Reference Symbols (Asterisk), Footnotes, Source References, Credit Lines, Transcriber's Notes, Pagination

15.1 Reference Citations in General

Authors often find that they must cite sources of information to give themselves credibility and to state the sources of direct quotations, facts, and ideas other than their own. Citations can be made in several ways. The most common way is to insert a reference marker, which may be an asterisk, a dagger, a double dagger, or a superscripted number or letter in the text immediately following the material being cited. A note, preceded by the same reference marker, explaining the source of the statement is then placed at the bottom of the print page--or sometimes at the end of the chapter or even the end of the book.

15.2 Reference Symbols – The Braille Asterisk

In literary braille, all print reference markers are represented by the braille asterisk (dots 3-5, 3-5). A space is left before and after a braille asterisk except when a footnote number or letter follows it in print. When an asterisk is used in braille it must be listed on a special symbols page (see Lesson 17.2*d*). Example:

Dambana* ng kagitingan

[illegible]

Museleo* ng Pamilya

[illegible]

15.2a Numbered or lettered reference markers. When reference markers are superscript numbers or letters in print, these references are represented in braille by the asterisk, preceded by a space but followed unspaced by the number sign and the number or the letter sign and the letter. Examples:

Siya ay nagpunta sa pantiyon!¹

1978^a ipinanganak si Luisito.

When print punctuation follows a reference markers, in braille the two are reversed so that the reference indicator can be preceded and followed by a blank cell. Example:

Figure 1 shows a 4x10 grid of dots. The dots are arranged in a pattern that suggests a sparse matrix structure, with varying numbers of dots per column (3 or 4).

15-104

* black market – ang tawag sa mga mapagsamantalang tindera na palihim na nagbibili ng produkto sa higit na mataas na presyo kaysa itinakda ng pamahalaan.

A 5x10 grid of 50 small square plots, each containing a different pattern of black dots. The patterns vary in density and arrangement, representing different data distributions or models.

Occasionally it is not possible to transcribe material into braille exactly as it appears in print. When this happens, a note is written by the transcriber explaining the change from print format or conveying information necessary for the clear understanding of the material. This transcriber's note (TN) may be added to a braille transcription either at the beginning of a volume or imbedded in the text.

For clarity, an opening transcriber's note symbol is never placed in contact with a whole-word, lower-sign contraction. When a TN symbol and a lower-sign contraction fall consecutively, the lower-sign word must be spelled out. When a transcriber's note symbol is used in a volume, it must be listed on a special symbols page (to be studied in Lesson 17.2*d*)

Ang simbulong caesura // ay ginagamit sa musika.

When it is necessary to explain that the braille version differs from the print in a fundamental way throughout an entire book this notice is placed on a transcriber's notes page at the beginning of the braille volume (to be studied in Lesson 17.2e).

A book that is brailled without any indication of the print page numbers is said to be brailled using literary-style pagination. This is the method generally used for magazines, craft instructions, menus, novels, and other recreational reading where it is not important to the braille reader to know where a print page starts or ends.

Interpoint is braille that is embossed on both sides of the page. Agencies that have equipment to produce interpoint should specify the placement of braille and print page numbers.

15.5a Literary-style pagination. In literary-style pagination, consecutive page numbers are placed so that they end at the right margin of line 1 on every page of a braille edition. This is the method that you have been using in past lessons. All certification manuscripts must be prepared using literary-style pagination.

15.5b Textbook-style pagination. When a book is brailled in literary style, the braille page numbers are placed at the top, right-hand corner of the page. When a book is brailled

When a new print page is started at the top of a braille page, the print page number is brailled in the last cells of the first line, with no fewer than three blank cells left between the page number and the running head.

Consecutive braille page numbers are placed in the last cells of the last line on every page, again leaving room for at least three blank cells between the last word and the page number.

As an example, suppose the exercise in this lesson is brailled using textbook-style pagination. The first braille page will have the print page number (17 – 11) placed at the end of line 1 and the braille page number (1) at the end of the 25th line.

You will not be able to complete the first print page on the first braille page. To indicate to the reader that the first print page continues on to subsequent braille pages, the same print page number is placed on the first line of the next braille page preceded by the unspaced letter a for the first continued page, the letter b for the second, etc. These letters are brailled without the letter sign. So, the second braille page will have the print page number 17 – all ($\cdot\cdot\cdot\cdot\cdot\cdot\cdot\cdot\cdot\cdot\cdot\cdot\cdot\cdot\cdot\cdot$) on the first line and the braille page number 2 ($\cdot\cdot\cdot\cdot$) at the end of line 25.

Note that when page numbers consist of a combination of the chapter number and a page number, as in this manual, in braille the numbers are separated by a dash—in which case the number sign must be repeated.

You will be on the fourth braille page before you come to the end of the first print page. To indicate the change to a new print page, a page change indicator (also known as a print page indicator or a page change line) is placed on the line immediately following the last line of text of print page 17-11.

The print page change indicator is a line of unspaced dots 3-6 that starts at the left-hand margin and continues all the way across the page to the new print page number. No space is left between this indicator and the first symbol of the print page number. Example:

If you are in the middle of a sentence or paragraph, the text should continue on the line immediately below the page change indicator. In our example, however, we have come to the end of the print page at the end of an excerpt. Because there is a blank line left between each of the excerpts in print, a blank line is left following the print page change indicator. Subsequent pages will be numbered 17-a12, 17-b12, etc.

1. The first step in the process of the development of a new product is the identification of a market need. This is often done through market research, which can be conducted in a number of ways. One way is to conduct a survey of potential customers, asking them about their needs and preferences. Another way is to observe the behavior of potential customers in a natural setting. A third way is to analyze the data from existing products in the market. Once a market need has been identified, the next step is to develop a concept for a new product that meets this need. This is often done through brainstorming sessions with a team of designers and engineers. The concept is then refined through a series of iterations, taking into account feedback from potential customers and the results of market research. Once a final concept has been developed, the next step is to create a prototype of the product. This is often done using 3D printing or other rapid prototyping techniques. The prototype is then used to test the product's functionality and to gather feedback from potential customers. Finally, the product is manufactured and distributed to the market.

Special Formats: Poetry, Columns, Tables, Outlines, Letters
Suggested Formats: Menus, Recipes

Print employs many different styles to produce the myriad of magazines, newsletters, catalogs, instruction manuals, patterns, menus, etc., that are available to the print reader. Transcribers are often asked to braille recipes, playing cards, words to music, transportation schedules, bank statements, and utility bills. For these, there are no set codes or rules. A sound knowledge of the basic literary braille code is the best preparation a brailist can have for transcribing such materials.

16.2a Poetry in prose form. When poetry is written in the form of prose with a mark of punctuation, such as slash or colon, indicating the end of each poetic line, in braille use the line sign (dots 3-4-5) to represent the print punctuation mark. Leave one blank cell before and after the line sign. The line sign may begin or end a braille line, but it may not stand alone on a line. When this sign is used it must be listed on the special symbols page (see in Lesson 12). When poetry that is run into the text is printed in a special typeface, the italic sign should be used in braille. Example:

A 4x10 grid of 40 small, irregularly shaped, light-colored fragments, likely representing a degraded document or a collection of small objects. The fragments are scattered across the grid, with some appearing as small clusters and others as single pieces. The overall appearance is that of a heavily degraded or fragmented document page.

A blank line should precede and follow each stanza. Italics are not used in poetry unless they are needed for emphasis or distinction. Example:

Kasabihan natin, ginto ang panahon
Kaya't habang bata'y matutong tumugon
Sa mga pagsubok sana'y maging layon
Ang maging maunlad sa puso at dunong.

Mag-isip, magbalak, gumawa't magkuro
Upang ang biyaya'y huwag lumayo;
Sa ano mang gawa ay huwag susuko
Pag-asa'y nariyan katumbas ay ginto.

• • • • •

Figure 1 displays 30 stimuli arranged in a 3x10 grid. Each stimulus is a 3x3 grid of dots. The dots are arranged in various patterns, including solid blocks, edges, corners, and textures. The patterns are designed to be easily distinguishable from one another.

When a poem occurs in the middle of text and there is no room at the bottom of a braille page for (1) the title (if any), (2) the blank lines which must precede and follow the title, and, (3) the first two complete poetic lines of the first stanza, the entire poem should be taken to the next page.

When an ellipsis indicates a missing stanza(s), it should start in cell 1 and be preceded and followed by blank lines.

Capitalization and punctuation of items in columns should be the same in braille as they are in print. Italics are used in braille only if they are needed for emphasis or distinction. Columned material is always preceded and followed by a blank line.

16.2a Lists (single columns). When print items are listed in vertical form, i.e. a single column, they should also be brailled vertically. Each item starts in cell 1 with runover lines starting in cell 3. Example:

- Mga bansang mayaman sa langis
- Mga bagong industriyalisadong bansa
- Mga republikang nasa pederasyon ng Unyong Sobyet
- Mga sosyalistang bansa
- Mga bagong umunlad na bansa
- Mahihirap na bansa

Figure 1 displays a 2x12 grid of dot patterns. The top row contains 12 patterns for digits 0-9, and the bottom row contains 12 patterns for symbols #, *, and space. Each pattern is a 4x4 grid of dots.

A 10x10 grid of 100 small square plots. Each plot contains a unique pattern of black dots. The patterns are arranged in a grid that is 10 rows high and 10 columns wide. The dots are black and the background is white. The patterns vary in density and arrangement, representing different data points or categories.

Katangian ng Pilipinas sa Pakikipagkalakalan

16.3 Tables

16-114

When a table will fill one braille page or less, place it on a page by itself, regardless of the amount of unused space on the preceding page. Example:

ANTAS NG URBANISASYON

| Mga Lungsod
(Kapital) | Bansa | Populasyon
ng Bansa |
|--------------------------|-----------|------------------------|
| Tokyo | Hapon | 125,716,637 |
| New Delhi | India | 967,612,804 |
| Manila | Pilipinas | 76,103,564 |
| Beijing | Tsina | 1,260,004,956 |
| Bangkok | Thailand | 59,450,818 |
| Kuala Lumpur | Malaysia | 20,376,235 |

Braille representation of the table above, showing the use of heavy lines (dots 2-3-5-6) to delineate the table structure.

When preparing the above table you must first determine how many cells in the 40-cell braille line should be allotted for each column. There are 3 columns in this table.

A blank line is left preceding, but not following the title of the table. A row of dots 2-3-5-6, extending across the full width of the page, is used to represent the top heavy horizontal line (known as the top table line). Dots 1-2-4-5 represent the heavy bottom line (or bottom table line). Do not leave a blank line before the top table line or after the bottom table line.

In braille, a horizontal line (dots 2-5) is used to separate each column heading from the material below. This separation line begins with dot 5 at the left margin for each column, followed by an unspaced series of dots (2-5) extending across the full width of the column.

The column headings and their runovers are left justified above their respective columns. All columns headings must end on the same braille line.

Note that in the first column it is necessary to use two braille lines for each of the items, and that these runovers are indented two cells to the right of the left-hand margin of the column. Figures in the other three columns are placed on the same line as the last line of the first column.

Note also the use of guide dots (dot 5) after runovers of two of the items in the first column. These guide dots are very helpful to the reader in following the braille line across from column to column. They should be used whenever four or more blank cells are left after a short item in a column that is followed on the same braille line by entries in other columns. Leave one blank cell before inserting a series of the unspaced guide dots within the column. There still must be two blank cells between the end of the guide dots and the beginning of the next column.

16.4 Outlines

When an outline is short (occupying not more than a few print pages), use the following format:

- Begin each main outline division (usually I, II, etc.) at the margin, with runover lines starting in cell 5.
- Start subdivisions of the first order (usually A, B, etc.) in cell 3 with runover lines starting in cell 7.
- Indent two cells to the right for the beginning of each lesser subdivision with runover lines also moving two cells to the right. (1/5, 3/7, 5/9, 7/11, etc.)

16.5 Menus

Many agencies have developed their own formats for items that have no set of rules. Following is one suggested method of brailleing a menu.

- Use a forty-cell line. Starting with page one, number each page at the right margin on the first line using Arabic numbers.
- Center the fully capitalized name of the restaurant on the first line—or first and second lines if necessary. Use the name, or an abbreviated name if necessary, for the running head on each following page.
- Leave the line following the title blank. If the print menu has a heading such as breakfast, lunch, or dinner, center it on the next line using single capitals. Always leave a blank line before and after a title that is centered.

- Category headings such as Inihaw o Espesyal na Salad should start in cell 5 with runover lines also starting in cell 5. Such "cell 5 headings" should always be preceded by a blank line but never followed by one.
- Braille general information, in standard paragraph form (3/1).
- Braille the actual menu choices in list format (see Lesson 16.2a), starting each item in cell 1 with runovers in cell 3.
- If there are only names of menu items (without descriptions) and prices, the item starts in cell 1 with runovers in cell 3. If the name is followed by a description, start each menu item in cell 1 with runovers in cell 5.
- Place the price at the right margin following the end of the name of the menu item. Insert a line of unspaced guide dots (dot 5) between the end of the menu item and the price. Leave a blank cell before and after the guide dots. If there is not room for at least 2 guide dots with a preceding and following blank cell, do not use any guide dots.
- Descriptions of menu items should start on the line following the price, blocked in cell 3. When a description requires more than one braille line, divide it so that at least six blank cells are left empty at the end of the each line. Do not leave a blank line between a description and the following menu item.
- Place any information related to restaurant service, such as sales tax and charge card acceptance, at the end of the menu.
- For some lengthy menus, a contents page may be helpful.

16.6 Recipes

The most important ingredient in a brailled recipe is accuracy. An error in the baking time can turn a chef's delight into an abysmal failure. Like menus, there are no hard and fast rules for recipes. The following instructions are given merely as a guideline.

- If the recipe starts on a new braille page, center the fully capitalized title on line 3 following the running head and a blank line. If the recipe starts in the middle of a braille page, the title is preceded and followed by a blank line. If there is not room on a braille page for the title and at least three listed ingredients, take the recipe to the next page.
- When information, such as the number of servings or preparation time, appears along with the title, in braille this material is placed at the margin with runover lines starting in cell 3. Follow with a blank line.
- If a recipe is divided into several parts that are identified by headings such as Cake, Salad, etc., start these headings in cell 5 with runover lines also starting in cell 5. Cell 5 headings should always be preceded by a blank line but never followed by one.
- The ingredients are then brailled in list format (start in cell 1 with runover lines starting in cell 3).
- Do not use abbreviations in braille when they are not used in print. Abbreviations are transcribed as they appear in print with one exception. To avoid confusion between can and cup, whenever the abbreviation c is used for cup, the word should be spelled out in braille.
- Braille the directions in paragraph format.

16.7 Format for Letters (correspondence)

16.7a In general. Follow print copy as to the location of headings, inside addresses, closings, and signatures, indenting in braille as they appear in print. Indented paragraphs in the body of the letter should start in the third cell, as all braille paragraphs do.

To block a heading, count the number of cells needed for the longest line. This line should end at the extreme right-hand margin. All other lines of the heading start in the same numbered cell as the longest line. Runover lines should be avoided in the heading and inside address—even if this means that the blocked lines of the heading start left of the middle of the page.

If there is not room to include the last line of the body of the letter as well as the complimentary closing, signature, writer's and typist's initials, and notice of enclosure on a braille page, take the last line of the body of the letter to a new page.

It is recommended that the closing and signature should start four cells to the right of the beginning of the preceding Braille line. For example, the credit should start in cell 5 if the line before started in cell 1.

16.7b Blank lines in letters. Blank lines are left in braille letters between segments that are not distinguished by margin indentions. When a letter is written in semiblock form, as in the illustration above and the following exercise, the only place a blank line is needed in braille is between the inside address and the salutation.

If a letter is written in full block form (without any indentions) and all segments start at the left margin, the same should be done in braille. In order to enable a braille reader to distinguish the different segments of the letter, just as in print a blank line is left between the inside address and the salutation, the salutation and the first paragraph, and between following paragraphs. A blank line is also left between the last line of the body of the letter and the closing. If there are writer's initials and/or a notice of enclosures followed by a postscript, a blank line should separate the two.

EXERCISES

Prepare the following exercise for submission to the instructor. It consists of a poem, an outline, text in columns, table, recipe and letter in block form. Each selection (six in all) should begin on a new page. Fully capitalize and center the title of the item on the first line of the page, followed by a blank line. If a selection has more than one page, use the title of the running head in the usual manner. Number the pages consecutively throughout the exercise.

Lesson 17

Literary Braille Book Format

17.1 Format in General

The layout of a braille book should follow that of the print book as closely as possible.

17.1a Illustrations, maps, pictures, and diagrams. It is often necessary to omit illustrations and diagrams and the references to them in a braille transcription. If a braille book is not an exact duplication of the print book, a general statement regarding omissions or additions should be placed on the transcriber's notes page. The omission of pictures on the front of a book or other pictures not related to the text need not be noted.

17.1b Captions. Captions that provide information not given elsewhere in the text should be incorporated, at an appropriate point, into the braille text. Starting in cell 7, braille the relevant word (Map, Picture, etc.) followed by a colon. Following on the same line, copy the caption. Runover lines should start in cell 5. Do not leave a blank line before or after the caption.

17.1c Headings. Nearly all print headings, whether titles of books, chapters, sections, or subsections are formatted in braille as centered or cell-5 headings. Print capitalization should be followed for headings. With the exception of paragraph headings italics are used in braille headings only if they are necessary to show emphasis of distinction. Do not confuse rules for headings with those for running heads (see Lesson 17.1d).

17.1c(1) Centered Headings. As a general rule, centered headings are used in braille to represent the major section headings, such as titles of parts of a book and of chapters. Just as its name implies, a centered heading is centered on one or more lines, preceded and followed by a blank line. Leave a minimum of three blank cells at the beginning and at the end of each line of a centered heading. When a centered heading starts a new braille page, a blank line is left between it and the running head.

17.1c(2) Cell-5 headings. When a book uses major headings and subheadings, the major headings are centered and the subheadings are brailled starting in cell 5 with runover lines also starting in cell 5. A cell-5 heading should be preceded by a blank line, but not followed by one. Like a centered heading, when a cell-5 heading starts a new braille page, a blank line is left between it and the running head.

17.1c(3) Paragraph headings. Paragraph headings are words at the beginning of a paragraph which are in full capitals or in a typeface different from the continuing text – that serve to highlight the important issue of the paragraph. Such headings are italicized in braille and print capitalization is followed. Do not confuse paragraph headings with purely stylistic letters at the beginning of a chapter or unit, which are not italicized in braille.

17.1d Running head. When a running head is required, it must appear consistently on all braille pages of the transcription with two exceptions. The fully capitalized title, rather than a portion of it, is used: (1) on the title page and, (2) on the first page of text in each volume. If the book being transcribed is part of a series, use the title of the book, not the title of the series, for the running head.

Only one braille line is used for the centered running head. After centering, there must be at least three blank cells left at the beginning of the line and between the end of the running head and the page number. When counting the number of cells available for the running head, consideration must be given to the number of cells that will be occupied by the longest page number in the entire book. It is preferred that the full, capitalized book title be used as the running head. If this takes up too much room, observe the following in the order given:

- Capitalize only the first letter of the first word and the first letter of principal words in the title. For example, the title BAGONG FILIPINO SA SALITA AT GAWA: WIKA cannot be brailled in full capitals and still leave the required margins, but it will fit as Bagong Filipino sa Salita at Gawa: Wika
- Condense the title by omitting minor words or by abbreviating longer words. The title UNANG HAKBANG SA BAGONG WIKANG FILIPINO cannot be brailled either in full capitals or with just the major words capitalized and still leave the required margins and room for a typical braille page number; therefore, it should be condensed to BAGONG WIKANG FILIPINO. If space permits, use full capitals for a condensed running head.

Do not leave a blank line between a running head and the continuation of text unless a break in context occurs at this point. A blank line is always left between a running head and a centered heading (such as a chapter title) or cell-5 heading.

When an agency chooses not to use a running head, the text continues on line 1 leaving room for three blank cells and the page number at the far right.

NOTE: All the instructions in this lesson are written with the assumption that a running head will be used 17.1e Blank lines and breaks in text. Only one blank line is left in braille. When in print one or more blank lines are used to indicate a break in thought or a change of time or place. In braille, if there is no room on the page for such a blank line and one line of continuing text, leave line 25 blank. On the next page, start the text on line 3 – leaving the line following the running head blank.

If a series of dots, stars, or other symbols, is used in print to indicate a break in text, these symbols should be represented in braille by three asterisks separated from each other by a blank cell and centered on the braille line. Do not leave a blank line either before or after the line containing the series of asterisks. Do not list asterisks used for this purpose on the special symbols page (see Lesson 17.2*d*). If a line containing such asterisks occurs on line 25 of the braille page, it is not necessary to leave a blank line at the top of the next page.

Quoted or displayed matter, such as letters and stanzas of a poem, are always preceded and followed by one blank line. If such matter ends on line 24 or 25 of the braille page, leave the line following the running head blank on the next page.

A blank line is always left in braille before a centered or cell-5 heading. When there is no room at the bottom of a braille page for such a heading – the appropriate blank lines and at least one line of braille text, the heading is taken to the next page where it is placed on line 3 (following the running head and blank line).

17.2 Preliminary Pages

For the purposes of braille the following items are considered preliminary pages and are given special page numbers (see Lesson 17.2*a* below). These items are always placed first in a braille volume, and are always in the following order:

- title page
- dedication (in volume 1 only)
- special symbols page (if needed)
- transcriber's notes page (if needed)
- table of contents (if any)
- cover/jacket material (if any)

Braille only what appears in print. Do not create a contents page, for example, if there isn't one in print. Other front matter that may be included in the braille preliminary pages is discussed in Lesson 17.2*h*.

Braille preliminary pages are followed by text pages, which will be studied in Lesson 17.3. A summary to help determine the order of preliminary pages and text pages is located in Lesson 17.4.

17.2a Page numbering of preliminary pages. When using literary-style pagination as required in Exercise 17, the numbers on the print pages are ignored. Braille preliminary pages are numbered consecutively. The braille page number is placed at the end of line 1 – each number preceded by the letter p without the letter sign.

Therefore, in every volume the title page will always be numbered p1. (⠏⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑⠑)

- Note: For future reference, when, after certification, material is transcribed using textbook-style pagination, instructions for preliminary page preparations should be carefully studied. The transcriber should be aware that when using textbook pagination, (1) every page must be accounted for – even blank ones, (2) braille preliminary pages do not reflect the print page numbers; they carry only the running braille page number (placed at the end of line 25 – each preceded by the letter p without the letter sign), (3) all authors, with their degrees and affiliations, and all copyright owners and dates are included on the title page. This requirement often necessitates a supplemental title page, (4) inclusive preliminary and text braille page numbers, and inclusive print page numbers (both roman and Arabic) are listed on the title page, and, (5) the page numbers on the contents page reflect the print page numbers.

17.2b Title page. Information for a braille title page is gleaned from the print title page and the page which is usually on the back of the title page that contains cataloging, copyright, and other publication data. Most braille books will consist of more than one volume. Every volume must have a title page. The order and form of presenting the information needed for a title page may vary with the particular publisher, library, or transcribing group. The Resources for the Blind, Inc. requires that the certification manuscript be brailled using textbook-style pagination and that the title page contains the following information listed in the following order:

- the book title (fully capitalized)
- subtitle and/or series name (if any)
- edition (if any)
- author
- publisher with first or principal address (if given)
- copyright and reproduction notices
- year of braille transcription
- name of organization and address
- total number of braille volumes (in Arabic numbers)
- number of the particular volume (in Arabic numbers)
- inclusive braille pages (both preliminary and text)
- inclusive print pages

Usually all the items mentioned can be listed on one braille page. Next, is a model title page, formatted as they should appear in braille, that illustrate the form required by the Resources for the Blind, Inc. for trial manuscript; other agencies may have different requirements. If there is more information than can fit on one page, it should be omitted from the Braille transcription, based on Braille Formats Rule 2.

17.2b(1) Centering lines (title page). The Resources for the Blind, Inc. requires that each line be centered on the title page of the certification manuscript. When centering, if any line fills an odd number of cells, the extra cell should be on left side, thus making more room for a long title and the page number. With the exception of the first line, all the cells on a line may be used if necessary.

17.2b(2) Blank lines (title page). Ideally, the items on a title page should be grouped into the following units with a blank line between each:

- 1) title, subtitle, series name
- 2) author's name
- 3) publisher, copyright information, etc.
- 4) embossing date, transcriber's group affiliation and its address
- 5) volume number and page numbers

The title of the book is always listed on line 1 and the page numbers on line 25. If there is not enough information to fill out the page in this way, leave one blank line between groupings. If necessary, two blank lines may be left between groupings, starting at the bottom of the page. In other words, if you had five extra lines, you would leave one blank line between groups 1 and 2, 2 and 3, 3 and 4, and 2 blank lines between groups 4 and 5.

When there is more information and is impossible to leave blank lines between each of the groupings mentioned above, condense the information by placing the word ng on the same line as the date of the transcription. Another line can be saved, if space permits, by combining the publisher's information. If even more lines are needed, some of the blank lines that separate the groupings may be deleted, starting at the bottom of the page.

All lines on a title page may be utilized except that there should be a blank line left between the title (and subtitle if there is one) and the author's name, and a blank line between the author's name and the following publishing information.

17.2b(3) Capitalization (title page). Only the title (not the subtitle) and the author's name are brailled in full capitals.

17.2b(4) Title and subtitle (title page). The title and subtitle should be brailled as they appear on the print title page with the title, but not the subtitle, in full capitals. If a title is too long to fit on the first line of the braille page, it should be divided, as evenly as possible, between two or more lines. Make the division at a logical point in the title; do not divide words in a title between lines. If the book is one of a series, the series name is placed on the line immediately following the title, or subtitle, in single capitals.

17.2b(5) Authors (title page). If a book has two or more authors, the name of each author should be brailled in full capitals on consecutive lines. If a title page is very full, authors' names can be joined by the word at and placed on the same line. Even if a book is an autobiography, the name of the author is placed on the title page. The word ni or nina before the author's name is used in braille only if it appears in print.

17.2b(6) Publishers (title page). The name of the publisher followed by the first or principal address only, should appear on a braille title page, preceded by the words Inilathala ng. If space permits, all of these information may be placed on one line. Example:

Inilathala ng SD Publication, Inc. Q.C.

17.2b(7) Copyright (title page). For books, other than textbooks, prepared using textbook-style pagination, only the latest copyright date is listed on the title page. If the date is printed in roman numerals, it should be brailled in Arabic numbers.

The copyright holder is always given on the title page – even when the publisher holds the copyright. Ignore expression of reservation of rights such as Reserbado ang Lahat ng Karapatan.

17.2b(8) Transcriber's group affiliation (title page). The year the transcription was completed and the name of the group for whom the transcriber works or from whom the transcriber received the braille assignment should be listed on the title page.

17.2b(9) Volume and page numbers (title page). Arabic numbers are used to indicate the number of a particular volume and the number of volumes in the book. When a book consists of only one braille volume, the number of the volume is not given; instead, just the words Inilimbag sa Isang Bolyum are used.

The numbers of the braille pages contained in the volume are brailled on the last line of the page, preceded by the words Pahina sa Braille. The numbers of the preliminary pages, each preceded by the letter p without the letter sign, are followed by the Arabic numbered pages. Of course, these page numbers cannot be filled in until the volume is completed and the page numbers known.

17.2c Dedication page. If the print text includes a dedication, it should be centered vertically on a new braille page in the first volume only. The lines may be centered, indented as a paragraph, or blocked at the left margin in accordance with print placement. Ignore special typefaces unless needed for emphasis or distinction.

17.2d Special symbols page. Certain symbols are listed on a special symbols page that is placed, following the title page and dedication (if there is one), in every braille volume in which they are found. If the following braille symbols are used in a volume and not explained in a transcriber's note adjacent to the symbol, they must be listed on a special symbols page:

- signs used in foreign words and phrases such as the stress sign and special signs for accented letters
- asterisk
- ditto mark
- page number repetition or omission symbols
- pronunciation symbols

- print symbol indicator
- termination sign
- transcriber's note symbol (only when the termination sign is used in the same volume)
- symbols from other codes such as Computer Braille Code symbols used in electronic addresses
- any symbols especially devised or assigned special usage by the transcriber

Follow these steps when preparing a special symbols page:

- Begin a new braille page and center the heading ESPESYAL NA SIMBOLO NA GINAMIT SA BOLYUM NA ITO on lines 3 and 4, followed by a blank line.
- If more than one page is required, start a second page with the heading ESPESYAL NA SIMBOLO (kar.) centered on line 2 without a blank line following.
- List the symbols in the order found in that volume.
- When symbols fall into categories, group them together under an appropriate cell-5 heading and place them first on the page. Miscellaneous symbols are then grouped together under the heading Iba Pang Simbolo.
- Using the list format, begin each symbol in cell 1 followed by its meaning according to the wording in the text. If the text does not explain a symbol, give its name. All runover lines begin in cell 3.
- When a listed symbol contains only right-hand or lower-cell dots (such as the accent sign or termination sign) enclose the dot numbers in parentheses following the symbol and a space.

17.2e Transcriber's notes page. Whenever a special braille format or usage is required throughout an entire work, rather than interrupting the text with many transcriber's notes, a notation is made on a transcriber's notes page. This page is placed at the beginning of each braille volume following the special symbols page, if there is one.

Some situations that might be mentioned on a transcriber's notes page are a notice of the omission of maps or illustrations, or the explanation of the rearrangement of the print format in order to provide a clearer presentation of recipes or puzzles. If only some maps, charts, etc., are omitted from the braille version, the omissions are noted in a transcriber's note at the appropriate point in the text.

Follow these steps to prepare a transcriber's notes page:

- Begin on a new braille page, center the heading TAGUBILIN NG TAGASALIN on line 3.
- Leave one blank line.
- List the notes in paragraph format, each one starting in cell 3 with runover lines starting in cell 1. Do not use transcriber's note symbols to enclose notes on a transcriber's notes page.

17.2f Contents page. When the print book has a contents page, the entire table of contents is placed at the beginning of the first braille volume only. Each subsequent volume then includes only that portion of the print contents that is contained in that particular volume.

When using literary-style pagination, substitute the appropriate braille page number for the page number in the print table of contents. Thus, the transcriber will have to wait until the transcription is complete to fill in the page numbers.

Do not create a contents page for a book that does not have one. Do not add items to the contents page that do not appear in print.

Follow print for capitalization and Roman or Arabic numerals. Do not use italics except where needed for emphasis or distinction. Use normal line spacing, even if the print table of contents is double-spaced.

When the print contents page includes maps, diagrams, etc., that have not been included in the braille edition, omit them from the braille contents page. These omissions must be noted at the end of the entire contents in the first volume in the form of a transcriber's note.

If material that is mentioned on the print contents page has been rearranged in the braille text, the braille table of contents must reflect the new arrangement.

Following is a contents page.

- Line 1. The heading Talaan ng mga Nilalaman is centered and follows print capitalization. Print should be followed if a different heading, such as Nilalaman, is used. Do not add a heading if one is not shown in print.
- Line 2. Blank
- Line 3. Center Bolyum 1. (When a braille edition consists of only one volume, eliminate this line.) Throughout the rest of the table of contents, leave a blank line before the volume number, but not after it.
- Line 5. Begin listing the content items (follow print) at the left margin with the braille page numbers placed at the right margin, regardless of print placement. A line of unspaced guide dots (dot 5) is inserted between the last word of the heading and the page number. Leave one blank cell between the end of the heading and the beginning of the guide dots and one blank cell at the end of the guide dots, before the number.

When material prior to the beginning of the story or following the story, such as a preface or author's note, is included on the contents page, these items are listed at the margin like all other items—regardless of print placement. Ignore any special typefaces. Leave a blank line between them and the other contents.

If there is no room between the chapter title and the page number for at least 2 guide dots with a preceding and following blank cell, do not use any guide dots (see line 8). If there is no room for one blank cell between the end of the title and the page number, the title must be continued on the following line(s).

When a chapter heading takes more than one line, the runover lines are blocked in cell 3. The page number and guide dots (if used) are placed at the end of the line on which the heading ends. There should be at least six blank cells at the end of every line that does not end in a page number.

When one or more chapter headings are followed by subheadings, start all chapter headings in cell 1 with runover lines starting in cell 5. Start the subheadings in cell 3 with runover lines in cell 7.

If it is necessary to end a volume within a chapter, on the contents page in the next volume repeat the continuing chapter heading followed by the word (karugtong).

If more than one braille page is required for the contents in any braille volume, do not repeat any of the headings (such as Kabanata, Pahina, o bilang ng Bolyum) that were used on the first page. Do not leave a blank line between the running head and the continuing contents items.

17.2g Cover/jacket material. Material found on the back of the dust jacket, on the jacket flaps, or on the inside of the book cover, may include, among other things, a summary of the story, a biographical sketch of the author, or a family genealogy. These should all be included in the preliminary pages of the first volume only. If these items are short, they may be placed on the same braille page separated by a blank line. If any one of them would take up more than half a braille page, it should be started on a new braille page.

When a summary of the story has no print heading, start it on a new braille page and center the heading BUOD NG KUWENTO on line 1. It is recognized that this practice does not follow print format. However, because of the summary's location in the braille volume, without a heading the braille reader might reasonably assume that it is the beginning of the story.

Direct quotations from the body of the story, whether on the cover or inside the front of the book should be ignored, as well as any material meant only to be visually attractive.

17.2h Other front matter. The preliminary items listed in Lesson 17.2 are always placed first in the braille volume in the order prescribed. Following them are other items from the front matter that will also be given preliminary page numbers, such as a list of other books by the author, listed reviews by other authors, a disclaimer, acknowledgments of borrowed material, an epigraph or poetry, etc. They are placed following the cover/jacket material in the order in which they occur in the book. Front matter items that consist of narrative text, such as a preface, prologue, foreword, author's notes, or introduction, are considered "text" and are described in Lesson 17.3.

17.2h(1) Other books by the author. Other books by the author should be brailled on a new braille page in list format and placed in the first volume only.

17.2h(2) Accolades and reviews by other authors, newspapers, or journals.

Accolades (brief statements of praise for an author which appear on a book's cover or with the front matter) and short reviews of the book are brailled in paragraph format with a blank line between each and placed in the first volume only.

If more than three braille pages will be needed to braille all of the reviews, it is suggested that they be placed at the end of the last volume. In this case the running braille page numbers are continued to the end of the volume and the word WAKAS are placed at the end of the last page of the last volume (see Lesson 17.9). When such comments are relocated to the end of the last volume, this rearrangement must be noted on the transcriber's notes page.

Braille only the comments about the book being transcribed—ignore advertisements for other books.

17.2h(3) Disclaimer. If a book contains a statement that the characters and/or places in the story are purely fictional, this statement is included in the braille version, in the first volume only. If there is room, the disclaimer can be placed on the same page as the cover/jacket material or the reviews, separated from them by a blank line.

17.2h(4) Acknowledgment of materials borrowed. When the material that has been borrowed from another source (such as song lyrics or poetry) is included and the publisher credits the source, then it is also credited in braille. When such publisher's acknowledgments are listed with page numbers in the table of contents, follow the print. If they are placed in the front or back of a book and are not listed in the table of contents, they are placed on a new braille page at the end of the last braille volume. Those acknowledgments that refer to maps, pictures, and other materials that have been omitted from the braille transcription should not be mentioned.

Do not confuse acknowledgments of borrowed materials with an author's personal words of thanks, which are also often entitled as Acknowledgments.

17.2h(5) Poetry and epigraphs. When in print, such items are included in the front matter and shown on a page by themselves, each one should begin a new braille page and be placed in the first volume only. Poetry should be brailled according to the rules and centered vertically on the page whenever possible.

An epigraph is a short introductory statement, often a quotation or motto placed at the beginning of a book, a book unit, or chapter. When an epigraph is printed on a page by itself, it should be transcribed in the same manner as a dedication. Retain quotation marks if shown in print but do not use italics unless needed for emphasis or distinction. For epigraphs at the beginning of each chapter see Lesson 17.5.

Poetry, epigraphs, quotations, and the like should be paginated as a preliminary page if they fall before the table of contents or before the beginning of text pages (see on Lesson 17.3). If they occur after the beginning of the text pages, they are paginated as text pages.

17.3 Text Pages

Preliminary pages, numbered as "p" pages, should come first in a braille volume. Text pages, with Arabic numbering, should follow. They start with the first page upon which narrative text is found. This may be a preface, introduction, foreword, author's note, etc.

A summary to help determine the order of preliminary pages and text pages is located in Lesson 17.4

17.3a Page numbering of text pages. In literary-style pagination, Arabic numbering starts on the first page of text and continues throughout all volumes, including any end matter such as an epilogue or information about the author. Therefore, in the first volume following the preliminary pages, the first page of text will be numbered Arabic 1 (⠠⠑) placed at the end of line 1.

17.3b First page of text. Following the braille preliminary pages, the text pages are brailled in the order in which they appear in print. So, the first page of text may be the first page of an introduction, acknowledgments, a preface—or it might be the first page of the first chapter. If there is both an introduction and a preface, for instance, braille them in the print order. There is one exception to this rule: if a narrative piece, such as a preface, comes before a table of contents in print, in braille, place the preface following the table of contents, but do not add to or change the print list of contents. When the arrangement of material at the beginning of a book is changed from the print copy, it must be noted on a transcriber's notes page in the first volume only.

There are only two pages in a braille volume that do not carry a running head—the title page and the first page of text.

In every braille volume, instead of a running head on the first page of text, place the complete book title, subtitle (if any), and series name (if any). The unabbreviated book title is brailled in full capitals and centered on the first line or lines. If the book has a subtitle, it is placed on the next line with only the first letter of the first word and other principal words capitalized. Leave at least three blank cells at the beginning and end of each line, and at least three blank cells between the end of the first line and the page number. Leave a blank line between the complete title and any heading or the text that follows.

17.3c Preface, foreword, prologue, introduction, and author's personal acknowledgments. When such items are shown in print, each one should begin a new braille page and should be placed in the first volume only. If there is a heading in print, in braille it is centered and print capitalization is followed. Ignore special typesets in headings unless needed for emphasis or distinction.

17.4 Summary: Order of Preliminary and Text Pages.

To determine the order of braille preliminary and text pages follow these steps:

- Look carefully at all of the print pages that precede the start of the first chapter and determine which should be considered the beginning of "text" pages in braille. (See Lesson 17.3*b*)
- Note which of the items in the list in Lesson 17.2 are pertinent to your book and list them on a sheet of paper in the order prescribed.
- Note all other print preliminary pages (see Lesson 17.2*h*) prior to the beginning of text (if any), and continue listing each of those in the order in which they appear in the print book.
- If a narrative piece, such as a preface, is located before a table of contents, transpose the two, but do not add to or change the contents page. The preface then becomes the first page of text. Only narrative pieces preceding the table of contents should be moved. The order and format of the braille version should be as close to the print copy as possible.
- Consecutively number all items that follow the beginning of text in Arabic numbers, including poetry and epigraphs.
- Ignore print pages that simply repeat the title.

17.5 Book Broken into Units

Whenever print uses an entire page for a unit heading (such as Part I), this page should be omitted in braille. Such a heading should be centered and separated by a blank line from other headings or text that precede and/or follow it. Follow print capitalization. Ignore special typefaces when an entire heading is printed in italics or small capitals. Use italics for a word, or words, within a heading that is emphasized or foreign.

If an epigraph is printed on the same page as a unit or chapter title, place it before or after the title, as it appears in print, preceded and followed by a blank line. Use normal margins and follow print for paragraph indentions. Retain quotation marks if shown in print but do not use italics unless needed for emphasis or distinction.

17.6 Chapter Titles

Chapter titles are treated as centered headings. Follow print for capitalization and Roman or Arabic numerals. Use italics only for emphasis or distinction, such as for an italicized foreign word within the title.

A long heading should be divided and brailled, centered, on consecutive lines. At least three blank cells should be left at the beginning and end of each line. If a chapter heading consists of both a number and a title, both should be placed on one braille line if space permits. When placed on one line, the chapter number comes first followed by a space and the title—regardless of print placement. Formatting must be consistent throughout a book. If any chapter title in a book is too long to be placed on the same line with the chapter number, then all chapters should have the chapter number centered on one line and the chapter title centered on the next.

When a chapter ends in the middle of a braille page, the next chapter should start on that same page as long as there is room for the chapter heading with its preceding and following blank lines and at least one line of braille text. When a new chapter starts at the top of a braille page, a blank line is left between the running head and the chapter heading.

When a braille volume ends in the middle of a chapter, the first page of text in the following volume should carry the chapter heading followed by the word (kar.).

Example:

[Assume that this is the first page of text, and that in print "Yunit I" is on a page by itself.]

YUNIT I TAYO AT ANG MGA HAMON NG PAGBABAGO

Aralin 1

Isa sa mga kamalian ng labis na pagmamahal ay ang paglabo ng pananaw. Ito'y higit na mapupuna sa mga magsing-irog at doon sa mga nagpapahayag ng pagsamba at paghanga sa mga itinuturing nating bayani ...

The ideal place for a volume division is at the end of a chapter or other unit of the text. When this is not possible, division should be made at a point where there is a logical break in context or thought. Do not divide in the middle of a paragraph, no matter how long that paragraph may be.

The optimal size of a braille volume is seventy-five braille sheets, but may vary between seventy and eighty sheets. If the total number of braille sheets exceeds eighty, divide the book into two volumes, even though this results in volumes of as few as forty-five sheets. Because of the bulk of a braille volume, division should always favor smaller volumes. The variation between any two volumes in the same book should not exceed fifteen sheets.

17.8 Appendixes, Glossaries, Bibliographies and Indexes.

When such items are shown in print they should be reproduced in braille. Each one begins a new braille page with the heading as shown in print centered on the third line. Leave a blank line to separate the heading from the following text.

17.9 End-of-Volume and End-of-Book Indication

The Resources for the Blind, Inc. requires an end-of-volume indication on the certification manuscript.

Indication of the volume ending should appear on the last page of the volume whether that page contains text, an author's notes, index, or any other material. The words WAKAS NG BOLYUM followed by the appropriate volume number (such as WAKAS NG BOLYUM 4) are centered below the last line of braille on the last page of each volume except the final one. In the final volume, only the words WAKAS are used.

Whenever possible, one blank line should precede the end-of-volume indication. However, if a volume ends on line 24 of the page, line 25 should be used for this purpose. When a volume ends on line 25, the end-of-volume indicator may be placed on that line so long as there is room for three blank cells between the end of the text and the end-of-volume indicator. If this is not possible, the last line of braille text must be carried over to another page.

EXERCISE

Prepare the following material for submission to the instructor. It consists of the title page, contents and other preliminary pages, as well as portion of text from Pagpapahalaga sa Aking Daigdig (Batayang Aklat sa Ikaapat na Taon) nina F.R. Uygan, I.V. Animosa, L.P. Avena and I.C. Balazo.

Transcribe this material using a 40-cell braille line. Use textbook-style pagination.

When preparing the title page, assume that this book will consist of four volumes, and that Volume 1 will end with braille page 74.

Since this is only a portion of a book, do not use an end-of-volume or end-of-book indicator on the last page.

Mahal naming Mag-aaral,

Ito ang ikaapat na aklat sa serye ng Edukasyong Pagpapahalaga. Tulad ng mga naunang aklat, ihahatid ka nito, sa pamamagitan ng pagpapahalaga sa iyong mga karanasan, sa lalong pag-unawa sa iyong sarili tungo sa paglinang ng kaganapan ng iyong katauhan.

Pagkatapos ng tatlong taong karanasan sa paglinang ng pagpapahalaga at sa mga proseso ng ikaapat na taon, inaasahang ikaw ay nagtamo na ng malawak na pang-unawa sa mga konsepto ng Edukasyong Pagpapahalaga. Lalo nang naging bukas at malawak ang iyong pang-unawa sa mga bagay-bagay sa iyong kapaligiran tungo sa lalong pagpapaunlad ng pagkatao.

Ngayong nasa ikaapat na taon ka na sa sekundaya, habang nagtatamo ka ng higit na malalim na kamalayan sa iyong mga karapatan at pananagutan bilang mamamayan, lalo mong pahahalagahan ang pagiging Pilipino. Patuloy mong mauunawaan ang iyong sarili sa iyong pakikipag-ugnayan sa bayan at sa likas na yaman at malawak na pagkakataong handog nito. Makikilahok ka sa pagsusuri ng mga sitwasyon ng bansa bilang Pilipino. Mababati mong kailangang lalong lumawak ang iyong pagpapahalaga upang makatugon sa mga pangangailangan ng bayan at ng kapwa Pilipino. Matatanim sa iyong puso at isipan na ang iyong pananaw sa iyong mga pananagutan ay lumalabas na sa hangganan ng sarili mong bayan patungo roon sa lalong malawak na kabuuan—ang pamayanang daigdig.

Binubuo ng apat na yunit ang aklat na ito—Ang Yunit I, Ako, sa Aking Daigdig, ay lalong nagpapakilala ng pakikipamuhay sa daigdig na iyong ginagalawan; ang Yunit II, Pagbabago Tungo sa Maulad na Daigdig, ay lalong nagpapaunlad sa iyong pagpapahalaga sa papel na ginagampanan ng iyong kapwa sa iyong pag-unlad bilang tao; ang Yunit III, Aking mga Talento, Lilimangin Ko, ay gumigising sa lalong tamtim na pag-ibig sa Inang Bayan at matapat na paghahangad na makilahok sa mga gawaing magsusulong sa kapayapaan at kaunlaran ng pamayanang daigdig; at ang Yunit IV, Buhay... laalay sa Mundo, ay lalong naglalapit sa iyo sa Panginoon. Lalo mong napahahalagahan ang pagsubaybay sa iyo ng Lumikha upang mapanuto ka sa pagtahak sa landas ng pagpapahalaga sa pamayanang daigdig. Sa paghahanda ng aklat na ito, sinikap namin na lalo pang mapayaman ang mga araling tumutugon sa layuning itinatadhana sa Philippine Secondary Schools Learning Competencies (PSSLC).

YUNIT I

AKO, SA AKING DAIGDIG

Sinabi ni Socrates: "Dapat makilala ng bawat tao ang kanyang sarili sapagkat sa pagkilala sa sarili nag-uugat ang pag-unawa sa daigdig at sa kalikasan."

Kabataan, huwag mong akalaing ikaw ay isa lamang munting tinig sa isang kalawakang tila walang hanggan, o kaya'y isang maliit na bato sa ilang na tinitisod-tisod lamang. Kung ikaw ay isang munting tinig, idagdag mo ang tinig na iyan sa lalong karamihan at maririnig ito sa lawak na walang hanggan. Kung ikaw naman ay isang munting bato, kapag inilakip ka sa ibang bato'y makatutulong ka sa pagtatayo ng isang bantayog.

Mahalaga ka, kabataan. Ang pagpapahalagang iyan ay dapat magsimula sa iyo na rin. Hanapin mo ang iyong sarili; alamin mo ang iyong mga kakayahan at kahinaan. Lalo mong palakasin ang iyong kakayahan sapagkat ito ang gagawin mong batong tuntungan tungo sa pagpapalakas ng iyong mga kahinaan.

Subalit hindi nagtatapos sa pagkilala sa iyong pagkatao ang kahulugan ng makahulugang bagay. Ihanda mo ang iyong sarili sa pagiging isang kapaki-pakinabang na mamamayan. Ang isang kapaki-pakinabang na mamamayan ay nakikisangkot sapagkat siya'y may kamalayang panlipunan. Nauunawaan niya ang mga makabuluhang pangyayari sa kanyang paligid.

Humayo ka, kabataan. Isulong mo ang iyong kamalayan at palawakin ang iyong pananaw mula sa munting daigdig ng tahanan tungo sa malawak at masalimuot na daigdig.

Aralin 1

Ito Ba Ako?

Walang tao, bata man o matanda, may pinag-aralan man o wala, ang ganap na nakakakilala sa kanyang sarili. May mga pagkakataon sa buhay na gulat ka pang nagawa mo ang isang bagay na sa mga nagdaang panahon sa iyong buhay ay ganap ang iyong paniniwalang hindi mo magagawa. At sasabihin mo, "Kaya ko pala."

Ang kakulangan ng pagkakilala sa sarili ang madalas na dahilan ng kawalan ng pagtitiwala ng tao sa kanyang kakayahang bumuo ng tamang desisyon, makipagsapalaran upang mapaunlad ang buhay, ipaglaban ang karapatan, at harapin ang mga pananagutan.

Ikaw, kabataan, ang madalas malito at hindi mo masagot kung sino ka bang talaga. Napapansin mo ang maraming pagbabago sa iyong sarili, pagbabagong pisikal, emosyonal, mental at ispiritwal na hindi mo maipaliwanag kaya lalo kang nalilito. At lalong hindi mo makilala ang sarili mo.

Paano mo kaya mababatid ang taglay mong kakayahan pati na mga kahinaan upang lalo mong mapaunlad ang iyong sarili?

Hindi matatawaran ang kahalagahan ng ating lubos na pagkakakilala sa ating sarili. Ito ang magiging daan sa pag-unlad hindi lamang ng ating pansariling kalagayan. Ikaw ay nasa hustong gulang na upang mapaunlad din ang kalagayan ng nakararami sa ating paligid, hindi lamang ang buhay ng iyong mga kapitbahay, kanayon o kabayan, kundi pati na rin ang buhay ng mga mamamayan ng ibang bansa sa daigdig.

Magagawa Mo

Si Gener ay may gulang na labinlimang taon at nasa ikatlong taon na ng haiskul. Para sa isang tinedyer na tulad niya, kapansin-pansin ang kawalan niya ng kibo, sa tahanan man o sa paaralan. Walang maituturing na barkada niya sapagkat hindi naman siya sumasama sa mga kabataang tulad niya sa lakad ng mga ito. Kung nasa bahay na siya ay sa sariling silid siya naglalagi. Kahit ang kasama niya ay ang mga magulang at kapatid, bihira siyang magsalita lalo na ang makipagbiruan.

Sa paaralan man ay gayon din ang ugali ni Gener. Hindi siya nakikilahok sa talakayan. Hindi nagtataas ng kamay kahit na alam ang sagot. Subalit alam ng guro na matalino si Gener sapagkat bihira ang kanyang tanong na hindi nito nasasagot kapag tinawag. Mataas ang nakukuha nito sa mga pagsusulit. Naging palaisipan sa guro kung paano niya mababago ang ugali at gawi ni Gener.

Sumapit ang Agosto kung kailan ginaganap ang pagdiriwang ng Buwan ng Wika. Nagkaroon sa paaralan ng paligsahan sa talumpatian. Naisip ng guro ni Gener na isali ito sa paligsahan. Maganda ang tindig nito, mataginting o may timbre ang tinig, kaaya-aya ang personalidad. Mahiyain nga lamang at parang takot sa tao. Gaganyakin niyang mabuti si Gener na lumahok sa paligsahan.

Biglang namulat at napatungo si Gener nang marinig ang sinabi ng guro. Hindi siya nakapagsalita. Isasali siya ng guro sa paligsahan? Takot lang niya. Hindi niya kaya! Hindi maaari!

Naging matiyaga ang guro sa paghimok kay Gener. Ipinakita niya ang talumpating bibigkasin nito. Ipinagdiinan niya ang ganap na paniniwala sa kakayahang taglay ng tinedyer. Ipinabasa niya nang malakas kay Gener ang talumpati. Wari'y talagang walang tiwala sa sarili ang mag-aaral sa kabila ng pagtitiwala ng guro.

Autistic, Nanguna sa Klase

"Ako po si Fidel Raymond Cabral, isang autistic." Ganito sinimulan ni Cabral ang kanyang valedictory address nang siya'y magtapos na valedictorian/cumlaude ng klase '99 sa St. Benedict College sa Alabang Hills, Muntinlupa. Ito ang kauna-unahang pagkakataon sa kasaysayan ng edukasyon sa Pilipinas na ang talumpati ng valedictorian sa kolehiyo ay nagsimula nang ganito. Nagbunga ang kanyang sinabi ng lalong paghanga sa kanya ng mga nakikinig.

Ang autismo ay isang panghabangbuhay na kapansanang nakapag-papahina sa kakayahan ng isang taong umunawa sa impormasyon at mga nakikita sa paligid, makipag-usap at makipag-ugnayan sa kapwa at kapaligiran. May mga gawi at kilos itong kakaiba at ang mga ito ay lubhang kapuna-puna.

Tinanggap ni Mandy, palayaw kay Cabral, ang diploma ng Bachelor of Science in Business Management Major- in Entrepreneurship.

"Pagsubok ng Panginoon ang autismo. Ngunit sa halip na maghinanakit at mawalan ng pag-asa, tinanggap ko ito nang maluwag sa puso. Hindi ako nawalan ng pag-asa na tatanggapin ako ng aking kapwa na kapantay rin nila; na kahit ano pa ako, sa tulong ng pagsisikap at positibong pananaw, ako ay magtatagumpay; na kung magpakita ako ng kabutihan sa iba, ang igaganti nila sa akin ay kabutihan din," sabi ni Mandy.

Si Mandy ay ikalawa sa tatlong supling na pawang lalaki ni Exequiel, isang inhinyero, at ni Fe, isang nars sa Philippine General Hospital hanggang sa siya ay magbitiw sa tungkulin upang mabigyan ng lalong atensyon ang kanyang mga anak lalo na si Mandy na nagpakita ng kakaibang pag-uugali noong bata pa man ito.

Nang apat na taon na si Mandy, napansin ng mga magulang na hirap siyang magsalita, isa o dalawang salita lamang ang kanyang nasasabi. Napakagana niyang kumain, hindi siya makatingin nang tuwid sa mata ng kapwa at takot siyang makiharap sa mga ito. Hyperactive o sobrang likot ang bata.

Sa kanyang unang paaralan, ang kanyang naiibang ugali ay lalong naging kapansin-pansin. Naging mahirap para sa mga guro ang pagkontrol sa kanya. Paikut-ikot siya sa silid-aralan at hindi nakikilahok sa mga gawain ng klase. Dahil dito, pinayuhan ang kanyang mga magulang na alisin ang bata sa paaralang iyon. Nagpalipat-lipat siya sa may pitong paaralan sa elementarya at haiskul.

Pinagtiyagaan ng nagmamahal na mga magulang ang anak. Dinala nila ito sa mga manggagamot, psychologist at therapist. Ipinasok nila ang bata sa paaralan para sa mga natatanging bata upang hindi ito matigil ng pag-aaral. Hindi naman sila nabigo.

Likas na matalino si Mandy sa kabila ng kanyang kapansanan. At dumating nga ang isa sa pinakatampok na pangyayari sa buhay ni Mandy, ang pagtatapos niya nang may pinakamataas na karangalan sa kolehiyo.

Nagpapasalamat si Mandy sa tinamong kapansanan ngunit may pag-aagam-agam pa rin siya sa magiging kapalaran sa hinaharap. "May tatanggap kaya sa aking kompanya kung malalaman nilang ako ay autistic? Opo, ako ay pararangalan ninyo bilang valedictorian at cum laude pero hindi pa rin ako nakatitiyak na makapag-empleyo sapagkat ako ay autistic. Ang katotohanang ito ay mahirap sa akin na tanggapin. Pagkatapos ng matagal na pagsisikap, kailangang patunayan ko nang paulit-ulit na ako ay karapat-dapat na humanay kasama ng ibang normal na tao... Pero alam kong hindi ako dapat malungkot o mangamba sapagkat napakaraming biyaya na ang natamo ko na galing sa Diyos." Bahagi pa rin ito ng talumpati ni Mandy sa kanyang pagtatapos.

Lesson 18

The Trial Manuscript and Certification

Upon completion of Lesson 17 the student has been introduced to all of the rules of literary braille. In order to achieve RBI certification and to demonstrate that the rules have been mastered, the student is now asked to prepare and submit a manuscript to Resources for the Blind, Inc.

18.1 In General

The certification manuscript must consist of at least thirty-five full braille pages, including preliminary pages, taken from textbook. Several partial pages adding up to twenty-five braille lines count as one page. If a transcription includes a dedication page that contains less than twenty-five braille lines but all other pages are full, thirty-six braille pages must be submitted.

Just as with the lessons in this instruction manual, the manuscript must be prepared using a braillewriter, a slate and stylus, or a computer using a direct-input braille program. Manuscript prepared using translation programs, where the material is typed in, is not permitted.

This is a test of the rules of literary braille format using textbook-style pagination. Consequently, a manuscript prepared using literary-style pagination will not be accepted.

Manuscripts must be submitted in single-sided embossed form or simulated braille sent through email. Interpoint (braille on both sides of the page) will not be accepted.

A copy of the print book used for the certification manuscript, or photocopies of the pages transcribed including all of the preliminary pages contained in the print copy, should accompany the manuscript. The print copy will be returned along with the evaluation report.

18.2 Choosing a Book for the Manuscript

The book selected for the manuscript should not be so technical in nature that the student must concentrate on technicalities rather than on producing neat and accurate braille. On the other hand, it must not be so rudimentary that it does not present average vocabulary and sentence structure. The book chosen for the manuscript must contain a table of contents and use a level of vocabulary approximately equal to a high school text.

The manuscript should resemble a complete braille book as closely as possible. It should be transcribed using a 40-cell braille line and a running head. When the required numbers of pages have been transcribed, end at a logical place such as at the end of a paragraph. Points will be deducted if the manuscript ends in the middle of a sentence. The words WAKAS should be placed on the last page in the prescribed manner.

18.3 Structuring the Book

Structuring is the term used for carefully perusing and making decisions as to how to handle the basic braille layout of the book. It is very important that this be done for every book before starting to braille. Structuring ensures consistency throughout a braille version. When structuring the book that you have chosen for the manuscript, look for such things as dialect, special typefaces, foreign words and phrases, quoted material, preliminary page setup, headings, graphs and tables. Decide how you are going to handle each item before you start to braille. Also decide upon the running head and centered or cell-5 headings. If there are items in the book that you are not comfortable with, such as maps or flowcharts, choose a different book for the manuscript.

18.4 Beginning Pages

All pages at the beginning of a book, such as dedication, acknowledgments, preface, author's note, foreword, table of contents, introduction, or prologue should be included in the braille transcription, with one exception – none of the items discussed under 17.2g Cover/Jacket Material are to be included in the manuscript.

The title page should be prepared following the instructions in Lesson 17 with each line centered. After certification, future title pages should be prepared at the direction of the agency for which the transcriber works.

Instead of putting the name of the transcribing organization they are affiliated with, students should put their own name as the transcriber.

Because the manuscript is a facsimile of a complete book, place the words Inilimbag sa Isang Bolyum instead of Bolyum 1 on the title page. The contents page should contain only the chapters and pages that actually appear in the thirty-five pages of the manuscript. Do not braille the entire table of contents.

A special symbols page and a transcriber's notes page should be included if appropriate.

18.5 Hyphenation

Although some agencies no longer require that words be divided between braille lines, maximum use of the braille line is expected in the manuscript, and therefore words should be divided. Use a dictionary or speller/divider no more than ten years old to check for proper syllabication. If an unusual proper name cannot be found in a dictionary or a listing of biographical names, it is best not to divide it between lines. Carry the entire name to the next line. This should be explained in the letter to the evaluator (see Letter to the Grader in Lesson 18.10). Refer to 2.5a for general guidelines regarding hyphenation.

18.6 Accuracy and Neatness

A high degree of accuracy and neatness is expected of the student in the preparation of the certification manuscript. Accuracy includes a thorough and exact reproduction of the print text with respect to wording, spelling, punctuation, the correct formation of braille characters, the proper use of contractions, the correct application of all rules of braille transcribing, the proper division of words, and the use of correct braille formats. Neatness includes uniformly clear dots, evenly spaced lines, and the absence of extensive or poorly made erasures. If an error has been made in page numbering, the appropriate pages must be repeated. Manuscripts containing a repetition or omission sign will not be accepted.

Omission or repetition of part of the text is undoubtedly the most serious error that can occur because it results in material that is often incomprehensible to the reader. As such an error is most likely to occur when the same word or words appear on two consecutive print lines, you are cautioned to guard against losing your place in the print copy, thereby either omitting the second line or repeating the first line.

18.7 Erasures

If the grader of the manuscript can feel an erasure, it will be counted as an error. Therefore, erasures should be resorted to only rarely. Follow the directions for erasing as presented in the General Course Instructions at the beginning of this book.

18.8 Editing

It is the job of the transcriber to duplicate the print copy as faithfully as possible. The transcriber is in no sense an editor and should not seek to substitute his or her judgment for that of the author as to what constitutes correct usage. This is especially true for capitalization, punctuation, and hyphenation — where there is wide variation in practice among writers and publishers. The author must be permitted his idiosyncrasies in such matters.

There are occasions in print (just as in braille) when errors do occur, and the transcriber should correct these. However, this should be done with great circumspection. In correcting spelling, for example, be sure that what is shown is not simply an alternate or archaic spelling.

18.9 Proofreading

The certification manuscript should be the work of the student and no one else. While preparing the manuscript, the pages should be proofread as they are brailled. After brailing seven to ten pages they should be proofread again. When the manuscript is finished, it is suggested that it be left alone for at least a week. The final proofreading, after the student has had a rest from the material, should expose any remaining errors. If the manuscript is generated by a computer, the pages should be carefully proofread after embossing.

The work should not be proofread by anyone other than the student. The trial manuscript is a test of the student's knowledge and ability, not of anyone else's proofreading skills.

18.10 A Letter to the Grader

A letter from the student to the grader which is written in braille should accompany every manuscript. In the letter, tell the grader what dictionary was used as well as anything unusual that was encountered in print such as format irregularities or unusual foreign names. If dialect was encountered in the print, or if the student made an "educated guess," divided a word that could not be found in a dictionary, or if any editing (see Editing in Lesson 18.8) was done, these things should also be explained. Do not include these explanations on a transcriber's notes page. The letter is not to be counted as part of the thirty-five-page manuscript. Points will not be deducted for errors in the letter.

18.11 Mailing the Manuscript

In preparing the trial manuscript for mailing, be sure that the pages are assembled in proper sequential order with the embossed side facing up. Then tie them securely together. A print copy of all of the front matter from the book chosen for the manuscript, a copy of all of the print pages that were transcribed, and the braille manuscript should be placed in a box or adequately wrapped to protect them from damage. Photocopies of the print are acceptable.

Exercises and trial manuscript can also be emailed to RBI at lorrie@blind.org.ph as stated in the General Course Instructions on page ix.

18.12 Grading

The following system for grading manuscripts has been adopted. A perfect manuscript will be given a grade of 100. A grade of 80 is required for certification. The list below shows how points will be deducted for errors. If the same error in the use or omission of contractions or in word division occurs consistently with respect to the same word, it will be counted only once. Format errors may sometimes be counted together as a single error. Otherwise, each error will be counted separately.

Errors and Points

- Contractions omitted or misused: 2
- Characters malformed (including added or omitted dots): 1
- Incorrect division of words: 2
- Letters inserted or omitted: 2
- Text omitted or repeated: 3

Spacing errors: 2
Format irregularities: 2
Omitted or inserted punctuation or composition signs: 2
Erasures, if detected: 2

If the score on the first manuscript is between 75 and 79, the student will be asked to submit a second manuscript of twenty-five pages. If the student still has not reached a successful score after the third try, he or she is directed to wait twelve months and retake the transcribing course before submitting the final fourth manuscript.

1. The first step is to identify the problem. This involves understanding the current situation and the desired outcome. It is important to gather all relevant information and to define the scope of the problem.

2. The second step is to analyze the problem. This involves breaking the problem down into smaller, more manageable parts. It is important to identify the causes of the problem and to determine the most effective way to address them.

3. The third step is to develop a plan. This involves determining the specific actions that need to be taken to address the problem. It is important to consider the resources available and to develop a timeline for the plan.

18.11 Analyzing the Problem

In order to analyze a problem, it is important to first identify the problem. This involves understanding the current situation and the desired outcome. It is important to gather all relevant information and to define the scope of the problem.

Next, it is important to analyze the problem. This involves breaking the problem down into smaller, more manageable parts. It is important to identify the causes of the problem and to determine the most effective way to address them.

18.12 Planning

Once the problem has been analyzed, the next step is to develop a plan. This involves determining the specific actions that need to be taken to address the problem. It is important to consider the resources available and to develop a timeline for the plan.

18.12.1 Planning

1. Identify the problem.
2. Analyze the problem.
3. Develop a plan.
4. Implement the plan.
5. Evaluate the results.

Drill 16

This figure displays a 10x10 grid of 100 small square plots. Each plot contains a unique pattern of black dots on a white background. The patterns are highly varied, ranging from sparse clusters of dots to dense, solid-looking shapes. Some patterns resemble letters or simple geometric forms, while others are more abstract and noisy. This grid represents a diverse set of visual stimuli used for training or testing a machine learning model.
